Two Die When Plane Crashes Off Newport

Two men lost their lives when a private plane ran out of gas and landed in the ocean off Newport Beach yesterday afternoon, with two others aboard rescued.

Anthony J. Carey, 50, of 121 Argonne avenue, Long Beach, and his brother, Jack Carey, 46, chief clerk of the Long Beach Harbor department, were drowned. Those saved were Richard Carey, 19, son of Anthony Carey, and James Buntini, 34, also of Long Beach.

Pair Picked Up
The plane landed about 2:40 p. m. yesterday, with the survivors picked up an hour and a half afterwards by the tug Eskimo. Searchers were unable to find the other two men.

As soon as the plane landed, the four men plunged into the icy water and started to swim toward shore, young Carey said at his home today. Within 20 minutes his father and uncle had disappeared from view. He and Buntini continued to swim and finally were picked up by the Eskimo, which was towing a kelp boat. The plane disappeared within five minutes.

The Eskimo sent out a call to the Coast Guard, which sent the cutters Perseus and the A-27 to search the district. The search was continued until late last night, when hope was abandoned. Young Carey said the plane took off from Victorville yesterday afternoon despite fog. He said the first break in the fog disclosed they were over Santa Catalina island and he headed back toward the mainland only to run out of gas off Newport Beach.

FOR DOMINATION OF HIGH COURT IS SEEN

WASHINGTON, March 21. — (UP) — President Roosevelt's nominations have entrenched New Deal philosophy in the Supreme Court until the prospect today is that it will be dominant there for the next 15 to 20 years.

Given one more vacancy to fill, the New Deal might establish an absolute majority on the high bench and one which could prevail until well beyond 1950.

Names Young Men
That situation has been brought about by Mr. Roosevelt's nomination of comparatively young men. It is a paradox of politics that the judiciary was the center of anti-New Deal philosophy when the legislative and executive branches were riding high in the popular Roosevelt wave and that it is coming now into the New Deal fold as the legislative branch begins to slip away from the administration.

With confirmation of William O. Douglas, Connecticut, as an associate justice, Mr. Roosevelt will have named four of the nine

Term Automobile Deadly Weapon

An automobile is a deadly weapon, Orange county authorities decided today in filing an assault with a deadly weapon charge against Edmund Fuentas, 29, of Central and Cedar streets, Stanton, claiming the Fuentas car fractured Mike R. Mendoza's right leg in an accident Sunday night in Stanton. The charge was one of the most unusual filed here in recent months, officials said. Fuentas, when first arrested, was charged with drunk driving. Now he faces both charges. Today Justice Howard C. Cameron set preliminary hearing for March 27 at 9 a. m., setting bail at $2500.

HITLER MAPS U. S. BRANDS NEW COURSE

BERLIN, March 21.—(UP) — Germany must revise her whole attitude toward Great Britain and the European continent as the result of a "Stop Hitler" drive inspired Nazi sources said today as Adolf Hitler continued a series of urgent consultations with his political and military aides.

It was intimated Nazi leaders already were considering retaliatory action against the United States for a 25 per cent tariff boost on German imports, and that similar imposts against American imports to Germany might be expected.

Waits Developments
It was indicated that as regards efforts to form a stop Hitler bloc, the Nazi Fuehrer would await developments.

But it was understood that some development might be expected before the week end as regards Memel, the former German area now under Lithuanian sovereignty.

Well-informed sources believed that Memel would be incorporated into Reich territory within the next few days.

Concludes Talks
Foreign Minister Juozas Urbys of Lithuania concluded a series of negotiations late last night with Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop. A high foreign official said that the conversations were purely informative and led to no agreement on

NAME RUTLEDGE TO COURT OF APPEALS

WASHINGTON, March 21. — (UP) — President Roosevelt today nominated Wiley Blount Rutledge jr., dean of the Iowa university law school, as an associate justice of the District of Columbia court of appeals.

Until William O. Douglas was nominated for the Supreme Court yesterday, Rutledge had been mentioned prominently for the vacancy on the high bench caused by the retirement of Associate Justice Louis D. Brandeis.

His nomination was sent to the Senate where confirmation was expected with little opposition.

Backed by Murphy
Rutledge was recommended by Attorney General Frank Murphy who termed him a legal scholar of repute and a man with broad and liberal viewpoints who was eminently qualified.

The District of Columbia appeals court is considered highly important in the judicial structure since it is the testing ground for validity of many federal laws.

Rutledge was born in 1884 in Cloverport, Ky. He is married and has three children. He received a bachelor of arts degree from the University of Wisconsin, attending the law school of Indiana University and later taught in Indiana and New Mexico high schools.

He resumed his legal studies at the University of Colorado and was graduated in 1922 with a bachelor of laws degree.

Beware of Female Spies, Warns Navy

WASHINGTON, March 21. — (UP) — The navy agrees that "the female of the species is more deadly than the male" — at least regarding foreign spies seeking secrets of the billion dollar defense program.

A sign hanging in one navy department office reads: "Beware of female spies."

"Women are being employed by the enemy to secure information from navy men on the theory that they are less liable to be suspected than male spies. Beware of inquisitive women as well as prying men."

"See everything, hear everything, say nothing concerning any matter bearing upon the work of the navy. Silence is safety."

Army Mineral Purchases Okehed

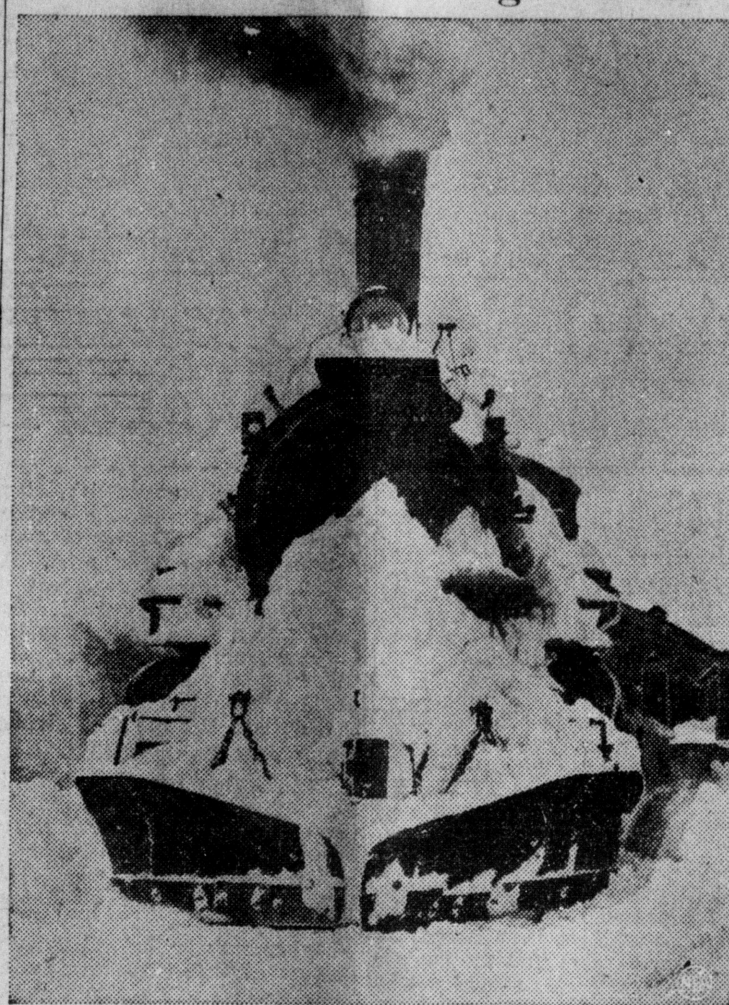

WASHINGTON, March 21. — (UP) — The House military affairs committee today reported favorably its bill authorizing expenditure of $100,000,000 in the next four years for acquisition and storage of minerals vital for war purposes.

Chairman Andrew May, D., Ky., said the committee eliminated a provision for purchase of the minerals at $25,000,000 per year, "and decided to leave it to the war department to buy at any rate it finds necessary."

The committee rejected an amendment to require that a percentage of the purchases be allotted to domestic production.

HOUSE GROUP OKEHS MEASURE TO ESTABLISH NAVAL DEPOT

WASHINGTON, March 21.—(UP)—The House naval affairs committee today approved a bill by Chairman Carl Vinson, D., Ga., to establish a naval supply depot at Oakland, Calif.

The bill provides an appropriation of $6,500,000. An amendment fixes $300,000 as the top price for the government to pay the Southern Pacific railroad to clear title to the land.

Committeemen engaged in spirited debate on this phase of the project and agreed only after Admiral Ben Moreell assured the committee that a price of $375,000 was a bargain for the government. That sum was recommended by the navy as a payment to the Southern Pacific but the committee agreed to an amendment by Vinson to cut this payment to $300,000.

"Good Faith" Lacking
Moreell said independent surveys valued the property at $550,000 to $800,000, the latter price being that asked by the railroad. Committee action followed criticism expressed by Vinson of the good faith of the city of Oakland in offering land for the depot with "strings attached to it." The "strings" he referred to were

ENGLAND, FRANCE ARE TERMED "PUBLIC ENEMIES" BY JAPAN

TOKYO, March 21.—(UP)—The Domei News Agency reported from Nanking today that a spokesman for the Japanese-sponsored Nanking government called on Japan to retaliate against Britain and France for aiding the forces of Gen. Chiang Kai-Shek.

"British-French aid to Chiang is prolonging hostilities," the spokesman said. "Therefore we must deliver to our Anglo-French enemies a decisive blow."

"Japan should open the Yangtze to Italians and Germans and not allow passage of Anglo-French shipping."

Relations Periled
Domei said that at the March 30 session of the reformed provisional government at Nanking it is intended to draft an anti-British declaration. The agency said public bodies in Nanking already

House Creeps Toward Cliff

OSSINING, N. Y., March 21.—(UP)—Guy Colby packed his family off to the Sleepy Hollow Country Club today and returned to watch his seven-room house creep toward a 45 foot precipice. Engineers said the clay under-lying his house and one acre gardens had been weakened by spring freshets and that they were powerless to stop them sliding 65 feet to a steep hillside, where they would drop into a street.

The house had moved a few inches. Trees on the grounds, less firmly anchored than the dwelling, had slipped 30 feet.

SPEED "STOP NAZI" DRIVE

LONDON, March 21.—(UP)—King George VI welcomed President Albert Lebrun of France to England today as Great Britain speeded up her campaign for a Pan-European front against Adolf Hitler in expectation of a Nazi march along the Baltic coast in the next few days.

Lebrun, French Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet and their official party arrived at Victoria station in mid-afternoon and were greeted by the king, queen and high government officials as a demonstration of British-French solidarity in Europe. It was the first visit of a French president to England in 12 years and officially returns the voyage of the king and Queen to Paris last year.

Memel Threatened

Britain warned Germany that denunciation of the 1935 German-British naval treaty would be considered invalid. Poland was understood to have urged the government to concentrate its "Stop Hitler" efforts on protection of Lithuania, which is expected to lose the semi-autonomous state of Memel to the nazis this week-end.

With France calling reserves and Italy emphasizing plans for Premier Benito Mussolini to announce his claims in the Mediterranean next Sunday, the hot spots of the international front against Nazi-Fascist expansion were becoming clear.

Troops Concentrate

Most urgent was believed to be on the Baltic coast, where German troops have been reported—despite Nazi press denials—to be concentrating near the Lithuanian frontier.

It was reported that Poland was insisting that any commitments against aggression such as Britain has asked eight other European powers to make should include safeguards to Lithuania.

A Nazi decision regarding Memel, which is dominated by pro-Germans, is expected this week-end when the Memel diet meets. The Lithuanian cabinet, meanwhile, considered precise proposals from Germany regarding the future of Memel, which it was expected to hand over to the Reich without serious argument.

Sweden Nervous

At Stockholm, the Swedish ministry of defense recognized the serious situation in the Memel area by cancelling naval exercises scheduled for the west coast and in view of the uncertainty of the international situation ordering the main coastal fleet to exercise instead in the Baltic Sea.

Britain still awaited reaction of the secondary European powers to proposals for a nine-power declaration against aggression—intended as a warning to Hitler against any move in the direction of Rumania. In this connection, the British were taking the attitude that Soviet Russia's proposals for an immediate six-power or nine-power conference was too slow a method.

Defense Plans

The Russian plan envisaged strong preparations for defense of Rumania if necessary, including a military and political agreement on which Britain is as yet undecided.

The lavish greeting extended to the visiting French officials in London was viewed as a formal indication that important military and political conversations

Urge Protection For Child Stars

SACRAMENTO, March 21.—(UP)—Senate judiciary committee members don't want to see Shirley Temple and 250 other child motion picture actors have the same experience Jackie Coogan did and have scheduled final hearing for March 29 on a bill to prevent that eventuality.

At a hearing last night Charles E. Millikan, the Temple attorney, said his clients approved in principle of a bill requiring at least half of child star's earnings to be held in trust, but asked delay to iron out minor objections.

Appearing in favor of the bill was Judge Ben B. Lindsay, famed for his juvenile court work in Denver and now on a Los Angeles bench. He said he would confer with Millikan, John Bryson, who represented the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors Association at the hearing and representatives of "the child stars" concerned on amendments.

Europe At A Glance

By United Press
Nazi defiance of a "Stop Hitler" campaign increased war fears and war preparations in European capitals today as Rumania emerged in a key role between the dictatorial and democratic fronts.

PARIS—Premier Edouard Daladier increased the pace of French industrial and defense mobilization, expected to put 300,000 extra troops on duty if the present tension continues through April. President Albert Lebrun and Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet left for important consultations in London. Official French dispatches said peace negotiations had started between the Nationalist and Republican governments in Spain.

LONDON—Great Britain, urging eight other European powers to join in an anti-aggression declaration aimed at the Nazis, warned Germany that denunciation of the British-Reich naval treaty would be regarded as illegal.

DALADIER TIGHTENS LINES OF DEFENSE

PARIS, March 21.—(UP)—Premier Edouard Daladier, acting under emergency powers, announced today that the class of army conscripts due for release in April would be held with the colors. At the same time he put war industries on a 64 hour a week basis to ensure a big increase in production.

By his order that April conscripts were to remain under the colors, he will increase the army by 90,000 men. But further, he increased the permanent army staff by 422 officers, to a total of 31,060, and added 2500 non-commissioned officers. He increased the length of the training period for reservists from 15 to 40 days for enlisted men and from 21 to 50 days for officers.

Provide Bonus
As a compensation to organized labor for the increase in the working week, the government provided a bonus of 10 per cent for wages between the 40th and 45th working hours each week, and an additional five per cent for wages between the 46th and 60th hour.

Jobless men on the relief rolls were ordered to take jobs in war factories. A special decree divided the vital Metz area near the German frontier into two military regions, each with its own commander-in-chief.

Army Takes Over
Another decree made the commanders of the Metz, Lyons and Strasbourg areas military governors and thus gave the army absolute control over all industrial and civil activities in those regions.

It was provided that the ministry of war should start at once creating a new native division in Morocco, to consist of picked men. Navy Minister Cesar Campinchi signed an order to start construction of four torpedo boats as part of the 1938 supplementary program.

The finance ministry following the lead of Great Britain, ordered Czech accounts in France blocked until further notice.

Young Prisoner "Given Chance"

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 21.—(UP)—Gale Crabb, 14, who is quite a long way from his home in Houston, Tex., and has spent much of his time of late behind jail bars, decided today that life can be rosy after all.

He pleaded guilty in federal court to burglarizing a U. S. postal substitution Feb. 28 at Walton, Ariz., and was sentenced under a new federal delinquency act to spend five years in a juvenile institution.

An officer told the court the youthful Texan "never had a chance—he hardly knows right from wrong."

The court decided to give him a chance when it was discovered he had "unusual ability" at drawing and sketching and an earnest desire to improve his work. It was recommended he be sent to a government art school in Washington for instruction.

WELLES NOTE RAPS HITLER

WASHINGTON, March 21. — (UP)—The United States, in a formal note to the German government made public today, refused to recognize the legality of German absorption of Czechoslovakia.

The note, sent to the German embassy by Acting Secretary of State Sumner Welles, observed that the former Czechoslovak provinces of Bohemia and Moravia were "now under the de facto administration of the German authorities," but proceeded with the flat declaration that:

"No Legal Basis"
"The government of the United States does not recognize that any legal basis exists for the status so indicated."

Welles' note, delivered yesterday by state department messenger, was in answer to a note received from the German charge d'affaires, Dr. Hans Thomsen, formally notifying the United States government that the German Reich had taken over control of the government of Bohemia and Moravia under a protectorate decree.

Not Unexpected

The American action in refusing to recognize the validity of the German aggression was forecast last Friday when Welles issued a public statement condemning the German action as "wantonly lawless," and asserting that military force had been used in a manner to threaten world peace "and the very structure of modern civilization."

In his public statement Welles spoke of the German aggression as resulting in the "temporary extinguishment of the liberties of a free and independent people." The use of the word "temporary" was then interpreted as an indication that the United States would refuse to recognize the legality of the German action.

Parallel Action
France, Great Britain and Soviet Russia since have formally notified the Berlin government of their respective refusals to recognize the German action in Czechoslovakia.

The full text of Welles' public statement of Friday was attached to his note to Thomsen.

Welles said the text was included for "the information of your government."

JOE BURKE, NOTED S. A. LAWYER, DEAD

The Hon. Joe Charles Burke, Santa Ana resident and one-time United States district attorney, dropped dead, apparently of a heart attack at his law offices in Los Angeles early this afternoon.

The 63-year-old barrister, whose life had been spent in Santa Ana, resided at 401 South Ross street, and had maintained law offices in Los Angeles for nearly a quarter of a century.

Born at Downey, Mr. Burke played an active part in the community life of the city and was a past Exalted Ruler of Santa Ana Elks. He was elected a member of California State Assembly in 1914 and re-elected in 1916.

Among the survivors are the widow, Mrs. Amber P. Burke, and a son, Marshall Burke, Tustin rancher.

Benes Blasts "Brute Force"

CHICAGO, March 21.—(UP)—Dr. Eduard Benes, former president of Czechoslovakia, today reiterated his stand against "the attempt to establish the age of brute force," in a letter to Ignace Paderewski, father of the Polish republic.

Benes thanked Paderewski for a letter in which the pianist protested against Nazi seizure of Czechoslovakia.

Morals Charge

Facing two charges, one a felony, as the result of their asserted attempt to lure two Buena Park girls, 13 and 14 years old, respectively, to a mountain cabin, L. C. White, 28, 272 Pine avenue, Long Beach, and E. O. Thompson, 28, 1818 Rogers street, Long Beach, were in county jail today awaiting arraignment in Anaheim justice court this afternoon.

The men are charged with conspiracy to contribute to the delinquency of minors, a felony. The men assertedly urged the 13-year-old girl yesterday noon to get into their car. She rode to the school with them where she persuaded them to let her out on the promise to meet them on the promenade with her girl friend. School authorities and sheriff's officers nabbed the two men as the girls, cooperating with the authorities, went to the car.

LAW MAKERS PRIMED FOR WAR OVER OLSON RELIEF POLICIES

SACRAMENTO, Cal., March 21.—(UP)—Conservatives and liberals in the assembly lined up their forces today for a bitter fight expected to include all phases of the relief problem in connection with consideration of the administration's $4,050,000 second deficiency relief bill, scheduled for Thursday.

Well informed foreign quarters said that no unusual troop movements had been observed in the German-Lithuanian frontier region.

JOINT BERLIN-ROME ACTION LOOMS

ROME, March 21.—(UP)—Bernardo Attolico, Italian minister to Berlin, is speeding to Rome with a message from Fuehrer Adolf Hitler to Premier Benito Mussolini regarding the joint position of the Rome-Berlin axis in the face of the stiffening British-French attitude towards Germany, an authoritative source said tonight.

Usually well-informed circles here understood Attolico is hurrying to see Mussolini before the latter makes the final draft of his speech next Sunday regarding Italy's demands on France.

The same quarters suggested the message from Hitler may be the forerunner of the first joint action by the axis in the international field.

Some Fascist quarters even suggested Hitler may refer to his desire to see Italy voice her "natural aspiration" now that Germany regards the Czechoslovakian situation as ended.

Rift Denied

Reports of a rift in the Rome-Berlin axis over Czechoslovakia were authoritatively denied in government circles, where official cognizance was not even given to such reports.

Foreign observers here contend that Italy certainly would not break suddenly with Germany under any circumstances, since such a break would be more diplomatic if worked out slowly over a long period during which Italy's claims on France might even play a part in negotiations for a new set-up with other countries.

Police News

Found in his ditched car at 18th and Placentia streets, Costa Mesa, yesterday, Joe Martinez, Orange county man, was booked at county jail by sheriff's officers who filed a drunk charge against him.

Fourteen Fullerton school boys, ranging in age from 14 to 17, cleared up a $350 burglary of the C. H. West garage and barn, La Palma and Brookhurst avenues, Anaheim, when their confessions were placed on file today at the sheriff's office. The boys were arrested after West found a license plate near the crime and was assisted by sheriff's officers in tracing its ownership to one of the youths. All of the boys returned the property, consisting of a $250 electric motor, grease guns, 13 auto generators and many other pieces of apparatus. Each must report to the head of his school every Monday for two months.

Margaret Hicks, 27-year-old Phoenix, Ariz., housemaid, who complained she was thrown from an automobile in Anaheim early yesterday after she rode here with two men, asserted escapes from Oakland jail and later captured near Bell, is in county jail serving a 30-day term today for agragancy, records show. Mrs. Hicks indicated she was hitchhiking a ride home when picked up by the men. Anaheim police found her.

Robert Palmer, 36, Anaheim, was booked at county jail yesterday to serve a 12½-day term for being drunk and disturbing the peace at Anaheim. Ray Orisco, 28, La Jolla colony, was jailed about the same time on a bench warrant charging he disturbed the peace of Placentia, must face prosecution.

Luis Lopez, 35, Alta Vista camp, La Habra, was booked yesterday afternoon at county jail to serve a 50-day term for drunk driving following a conviction in Fullerton. Robert P. Burns, 35, Los Angeles operator of a bulldozer machine, was jailed by California highway patrol officers last evening on charges of drunk driving and being drunk. He had not been prosecuted at the time.

Carries On Dole

The measure, relatively small as relief appropriations go, is to carry out the state's dole program until June 30, end of the current biennium. It was approved by the assembly social welfare committee last week, and was favorably recommended by the ways and means committee last night, 15 to 3.

Debate on the relief bill will coincide with a legislative inquiry into charges that Communists dominate policies of the state relief administration in several localities.

The assembly social welfare committee was authorized to spend $500 to bring witnesses to Sacramento this week end in connection with allegations that certain officials of the S.R.A. allowed the Workers' Alliance, an organization of unemployed, and the State, County and Municipal Workers' Union, a C.I.O. affiliate, to "dictate" appointments, replacements and discharges of staff members at Bakersfield.

Promises Fight

The senate rules committee was expected to report later today on a resolution providing for a joint investigation of the charges by a committee of three senators and three assemblymen. The resolution, introduced yesterday, was authored by Senator Roy J. Nielsen, R., Sacramento.

The deficiency relief bill was approved by the ways and means committee with little opposition, but Assemblyman Gerald C. Kepple, R., Whittier, served notice he would fight the appropriation on the floor, remarking "there's no use opposing it here."

Kepple named that greatly increasing the state's relief funds might result in a curtailment of federal W.P.A. allotments to California.

Excessive Estimate

"The relief administration had $2,000,000 in addition to the $20,000,000 we voted them in January," Kepple said. "The deficiency of $4,000,000 is merely telling the federal government to go ahead and withdraw their money from this state and that we will take care of the entire load." He charged Anderson's estimate was excessive.

The bill's author, Assemblyman Elmer E. Lore, D., North Hollywood, said he would request that the assembly set the matter as a special order of business Thursday afternoon.

Most important action in routine sessions of the two houses yesterday afternoon was senate approval of a bill providing for non-partisan election of all state officers except governor, lieutenant governor, U. S. senators and congressmen.

No Opposition

The bill, by Senator George M. Biggar, R., Covelo, was passed unanimously. There was no opposition and little discussion of the measure, which is similar to a bill killed in the assembly last year.

Under Biggar's bill, members of state central committees of the various parties would be selected by county committees in the assembly and senatorial districts. At present nominees to the legislature and principal state officers compose the party central organizations.

SENATE BLOC WARS ON RELIEF MEASURE

WASHINGTON, March 21.—(UP)—Administration leaders in the house capitulated today to economy bloc demands and called a meeting to arrange reduction of President Roosevelt's request for new relief funds from $150,000,000 to $100,000,000.

Democratic members of the house appropriations subcommittee considering President Roosevelt's second urgent request for an additional $15,000,000 for relief, were summoned to the office of Committee Chairman Edward T. Taylor, D., Colo., half an hour in advance of their scheduled meeting time. They will attempt to obtain quick general agreement to cut $50,000,000 from the relief request and speed the bill to the floor.

Defeat for F. D. R.

Such an agreement would represent Mr. Roosevelt's second major defeat on the issue of relief appropriations. The same subcommittee trimmed $150,000,000 from Mr. Roosevelt's original request of $875,000,000 for relief, and that reduction later was upheld by both the senate and the house.

It was learned that Speaker William B. Bankhead told President Roosevelt yesterday of the decision.

Members of the economy bloc said that before they would consent to report a $100,000,000 bill, they want assurance that the administration will not wage a fight on the floor to increase the amount.

Rumanian Oil for Nazi War Machine?

Oil fields of Rumania, like the above in Prahova Valley, are one of the reasons Adolf Hitler casts longing glances at the country of King Carol. With Rumania under Nazi "protection," these oil fields would fill a great gap in Germany's military and industrial needs.

HEARING ON WAGNER ACT AGAIN DELAYED

WASHINGTON, March 21.—(UP)—The Senate labor committee today once more put off fixing a date for hearings of proposed amendments to the Wagner labor relations act. It decided to consider the matter again on March 28.

The postponement was the second voted on the contention of Chairman Elbert D. Thomas, D., Utah, and others that the controversial amendments should not be debated during peace negotiations between the American Federation of Labor and the Congress of Industrial Organizations.

Green Raps Delay

Sen. William E. Borah, R., Ida., said that he made the motion for a week's postponement after it was pointed out that the AFL executive council meets tomorrow to discuss the peace negotiations and the CIO-AFL representatives resume their deliberations Friday.

Status Unchanged

The party status of the prorogue commission will be unchanged by today's appointments, since there are nine members including the executive officer.

Hill succeeds A. J. McFadden of Santa Ana, now president of the commission, and Fallon replaces Thomas A. Robertson of Ventura County.

A fourth important appointment announced today was that of Stuart Meigs, Carpinteria citrus grower to succeed A. B. Miller, Fontana, as member and president of the Board of Agriculture and of the State Agricultural Society which operates the State Fair. The latter is generally known as the State Fair Board.

RUMANIA SPEEDS PLANS FOR DEFENSE

BUCHAREST, Rumania, March 21.—(UP)—Nervousness increased rapidly in Bucharest today as King Carol engaged in a series of urgent conferences with cabinet, political and military leaders. Hoarding of food and other commodities intensified and many persons withdrew bank holdings in fear of international conflict.

It was announced that the signing of a commercial agreement with Germany, set for yesterday, had been postponed "for a day or two" because some details—which officials said were minor—remained to be settled.

There were persistent reports that King Carol had received a personal message from King George VI of Great Britain in response to a secret message which Carol sent George.

(The Sunday Dispatch of London asserted Sunday that King Carol had appealed personally to King George for aid after a German trade proposal of almost ultimative nature. At the time, Bucharest denied that Carol had made any appeal.—Ed.)

NIPPON ARMY PLANS DRIVE ON NEW AREA

SHANGHAI, March 21.—(UP)—Japanese troops were reported en route today to Weighow Island and Hoihow, on the north coast of Hainan island, while 60 Japanese transports were understood to be moving southward from Shanghai in a long heralded attack on the Pakhoi area.

Pakhoi is a town of 20,000 on the Gulf of Tongking, in Kwangtung province, far down on the South China coast near French Indo-China. Hainan, of strategic importance to French communications in the Orient, was seized by Japanese some time ago.

Chinese advisers said that an attack on the Pakhoi area was believed imminent.

Tension was high and martial law was in effect on the southwest coast of Kwangtung and on the south coast of Luichow peninsula, it was reported.

members of the high bench. Douglas' nomination was made yesterday. He was promoted from chairmanship of the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Party Split

Estimated on the basis of an average age of death of Supreme Court justices, the New Deal should be substantially represented until 1955 or thereabouts. Douglas now is 40 years old. If he served until the average age at which justices have died, the New Deal philosophy would have at least one spokesman on the Supreme Court 30 years from now.

Consolidation of the New Deal forces on the Supreme Court bench may be a fact of increasing significance as the conservative-liberal battle develops in 1940 and subsequent elections. The court is inextricably involved up to the political events leading up to the conservative-liberal engagement. It was Mr. Roosevelt's Feb. 5, 1937, proposal to reorganize and expand the Supreme Court that began dividing the New Deal-Democratic party. Division now has reached the point where a conservative Democratic group including Vice President John N. Garner and a considerable number of influential—largely southern—members of Congress is determined to regain party control from the President.

MRS. RANDELL TAKEN BY DEATH

Mrs. Emma J. Randell, 82-year-old resident of Orange county, died yesterday at St. Joseph hospital from the effects of a stroke suffered two weeks ago on her orange grove home on the Old Park road.

Mrs. Randell was a native of Indiana, born February 28, 1857 in Noble county, daughter of Elias Jones, a country doctor. She received her education in the public schools of that community and then for several years taught school.

West To Seattle

In 1879 she married the late Dr. George H. Randell, then a young doctor. For a short time they lived in Kansas and then moved to Chicago where Dr. Randell became one of the leading physicians. In 1889 they came west to Seattle and in 1920 moved to Orange county where they spent their remaining years on their orange grove in the Villa Park district. Dr. Randell passed away in December 1936 at the age of 84.

She is survived by a daughter and three sons: Laura Randell, who teaches at Fairfax High school in Los Angeles, George C. and Frank M. Randell, orange growers of Villa Park and Ralph R. Randell, for many years engineer with the Federal Power Commission, Washington, D. C.

Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at 2:30 at the Shannon chapel in Orange, under the direction of the Rev. Perry F. Schrock.

ATTEND INSTITUTE

A large number of Orange county citrus growers and Harold Wahlberg, county farm advisor, attended the annual citrus institute at the Elks clubhouse in San Bernardino today. The institute is held at this time of the year to give growers an opportunity to attend the National Orange show following sessions of the institute.

Plans Speeded For High School Hi-Jinks Friday

Plans for the sixth annual Santa Ana high school Hi-Jinks, which is to be presented Friday at 8 p. m. at the high school auditorium, are being completed, Robert Farrar, who is in charge of the production, announced today.

The entertainment will include eight acts of vaudeville, each service club of the school presenting an act.

The annual affair is sponsored by the Inter-Club Council, and this organization of representatives of the service clubs has decided that proceeds will be made into a permanent fund for general improvement of The Hut, the school social center.

Gavel Is Prize
Tickets are being sold by members of the service clubs, and a contest is being held to determine the winner of the sale. A gavel is to be awarded to the club which sells the most tickets, and a chart has been placed in the hall of the high school to show the relative standing of the various clubs.

All persons holding Hi-Jinks tickets will be admitted to the dance in Andrews gym following the program in the auditorium. Clarence Williams and his Knights of Swing will play for the dance.

PIER CONCESSIONS TO BE LET BY BIDS

SEAL BEACH, Mar. 21.—With completion of the new $110,000 pier drawing nearer daily, the city council took steps by resolution, to clear the way for the type of beach recreation desired by the community. That leasing of concessions on the pier will be by franchise was indicated in the resolution and ordinance which specified that all concessions be leased for a five year period, all to one lessee. Operation of water taxis from the pier also will be governed by franchise, which in first reading carried a clause calling for revoke in case any taxi carried passengers to or from a gambling ship.

April 6, 1939, is the date set on which bids for the pier franchise will be opened. They will be received by City Clerk Ollie B. Padrick until 7 o'clock and will be opened by the council at 7:30 o'clock. Bidders will be required to enclose a certified check for 10 per cent of the total amount of the bid. When the franchise is granted the grantor will be required to post a $5000 bond, and to carry specified amounts of compensation and public liability insurance.

Approval of the first beach oven, sought by the chamber of commerce, was voted by the council. The first to be installed will be a double unit, capable of serving approximately 300 persons. It will be installed on the butt end of Tenth street, beyond extreme high tide. Construction will start as soon as approved plans can be submitted by the Southern Counties Gas company.

Back to the authors went two $1000 checks, last night submitted in company with applications to operate games of amusement at two Main street addresses. Thomas F. Doyle of Los Angeles sought to open a game at 208 Main St., and a Long Beach man filed an application to open at 141 Main street.

ALLEN ESTATE FIGHT OPENED

Mrs. Carrie J. Allen of Santa Ana, chief beneficiary under the will of her father, the late James A. Lyon, was summoned to the witness stand before Superior Judge Franklin G. West today for questioning by attorneys for other heirs, her sisters and brothers, regarding allegedly concealed assets of the estate.

Mrs. Allen, represented by Attorney B. Z. McKinney, was questioned by Attorney Winthrop O. Gordon, counsel for other heirs, who intervened in today's proceedings, which were brought about by the executor, Vernon Cummings, a brother-in-law.

"Deeded Outright" Replying to Gordon's questions about Coachella property willed to her by her father, who left only $5 each to his other children, Mrs. Allen declared that her father had deeded her the property outright in 1935, but the deed was later stolen from her. In his will, her father then left the two parcels, valued at $2000, to her and her daughter, Norma.

The brothers and sisters had sought revocation of probate of the will some time ago, and when Executor Cummings applied for an order requiring Mrs. Allen to answer questions regarding assets of the estate, the brothers and sisters intervened in the proceedings. They include Edith Warner and Emma Cummings, of Los Angeles; Edna E. Campbell, Santa Ana; Della Cain of Gardena; C. E. Lyon of Banning, and Jessie F. Lyon of Chanute, Kansas.

Bus Occupants Escape Injury As Bottle Is Hurlled

R. P. Powers, driver of a Motor Transit bus, yesterday escaped possible blindness or death and eight passengers on the bus, possible serious injury or death when a beer bottle was thrown through the bus windshield squarely in front of the driver, splattering glass over him and cutting him on the forehead. That was the report made to Sheriff Jesse L. Elliott today following an investigation by one of the sheriff's men.

According to Powers, the bottle was hurled by a Mexican citrus worker as a truck full of the workers passed the bus on Central avenue half a mile west of La Habra. Through the officer's checkup on reports five truckloads of citrus workers had passed through the district, he located the man sought upon contacting the first truck load driver, Jose Quintero, resident of Citrus camp, admitted he threw the bottle and had intended making a report as soon as he could get off work. "We was just playing with the bottle, tossed it about to one another and just as we passed the bus, one of the boys failed to catch the bottle," Quintero stated. He said he would pay the damage.

GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATED AT BUENA PARK

BUENA PARK, March 21.—A very day with duties there and so happy celebration occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Thompson of Lincoln Boulevard, near Buena Park, Sunday when they celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. Scores of friends called during the afternoon offering their felicitations to the bride and groom of 50 years ago exactly for they were married on March 20, 1889.

Interest in the golden wedding celebration was expressed in flowers until the home bloomed like a spring garden with blossoms of almost every color and form. Especially lovely were the Talisman roses, gift of a grand-daughter and the gorgeous white stocks sent by the Pacific Coast Club of Long Beach. Centering the dining table with its handsome cloth of creamy lace was a large cut glass bowl of jonquils and anemone. Tall, slim yellow tapers also adorned the table where orange punch and wedding cakes, one of them a four tiered cake with a tiny bride and groom going up the stairway to an altar with the number 50 and a large white bell served to the guests by Miss Mildred Becker, a grand-daughter. Mrs. Theda Becker, grand-daughter-in-law and Alice Ellis, a grand-niece.

For this very special occasion, Mrs. Thompson wore a brown satin gown with a corsage bouquet of Golden Emblem Roses. Assisting in receiving were Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Thompson and the grand daughters. On display with other interesting articles reminiscent of days gone by was a hand carved butter mold which had belonged to Mr. Thompson's mothers and then used by the Thompsons for many years, the lamp the couple started housekeeping with and a very old pair of pillow shams.

From North Platte came a book which had been sent there by Mr. and Mrs. Pete Becker of Long Beach, bearing the names of 75 old friends and neighbors of the wedding couple. Pictures and congratulations were also sent.

Mrs. Sam Deal who was a guest Sunday was among those who attended the wedding of the couple 50 years ago. The Thompsons were married in Nebraska and home-stayed in Logan county, Neb., living there about 32 years. They came to Long Beach in 1921 where they lived several years before moving to their present home near Buena Park. Here on their orange ranch they are active ev-

300 TAXPAYERS IN NEW ASSOCIATION

LAGUNA BEACH, March 21.—With preliminary organization work well under way, and with nearly three hundred members signed or pledged, the Laguna Taxpayers' Protective association will hold its next public meeting on April 11.

The purpose of the league, according to accredited spokesmen, is to secure "more efficiency in government." In line with the aims of the new group, two representatives appeared before city council last week. Doctor Harvey D. Thornburg of the executive committee, and Dr. C. M. Lane, chairman pro tem, presented their recommendations. Dr. Thornburg spoke of the asserted present cost of government in Laguna Beach, as compared with other cities of like population, stressing the necessity for study of methods in vogue elsewhere.

Before preparation of the 1939-1940 city budget, said Dr. Thornburg, sharp definition of the powers of each commissioner, five of whom comprise city council, was extremely desirable, in order that overlapping of authority and function be obviated. In response to a request voiced by Dr. Thornburg, a committee was appointed by Mayor Tom Cummings to confer with Dr. Thornburg. The committee, Councilmen Randolph H. Bainbridge and Hugh K. Peabody, will report its findings to the council in due course.

Prominent in the formation of the Taxpayers' Association are: Sam W. Durand, George Jensen Langskov, Bill and Ernest Caldwell, Leo Wilson, Barzen Hoyt, Jerry Sullivan, A. B. Collins, George Johnston and Parley Smith.

STABBING VICTIM REPORTED 'BETTER'

Condition of Purdie Price, 24, Fullerton Negro stabbed through the stomach with an ice pick Sunday night, was reported better at county hospital today and "not critical."

Robert Horton, 32, Santa Ana Negro, charged with assault with a deadly weapon in connection with Price's injury, assertedly told conflicting stories, then stated he could not remember anything of a stabbing. Horton was arrested in Anaheim township on a drunk driving charge after an auto accident in which he and Price both were injured. California highway patrol officers assertedly found the ice pick in Horton's pocket. Price was in the car with him, suffering the stab wound.

According to sheriff's office investigation, it is believed Price may have been the victim of mistaken identity when stabbed since Horton assertedly threatened a third Negro with the ice pick Sunday. Horton was sentenced on the drunk driving charge to serve 60 days in county jail. He still faces the second charge.

Reasons for the dismissal were not disclosed.

British Attack Nippon Spies

LONDON, March 21.—(UP)—A British note handed to Japanese Ambassador Mamoru Shigemitsu on Saturday, contained a veiled admonition to suspected Japanese spies at Singapore, it was revealed today.

Diplomatic exchange originated with a visit by Shigemitsu to the foreign office on January 25 to complain about the treatment of Japanese in Singapore and British police raids on Japanese establishments there.

The British reply was that the raids divulged a Japanese national intention to engage in activities prejudicial to the colony and likely to cause a breach of the peace.

Dr. Giles Knight replaced Mrs. McPherson in the afternoon meeting and Dr. Howard Courtney, of Riverside, was the speaker in the morning. Dr. William Opie, of Fresno, replaced Kellogg in the evening session.

CITY ADOPTS ZONING PLAN

There was unexpected quiet in the city council chamber last night when the ordinance creating a new master zoning plan and map designed to revise zones throughout the city was brought up for discussion and final adoption. The expected verbal protests against one point of the ordinance involving duplex construction were absent. Not a person spoke. Councilman Ernest H. Layton moved adoption, Councilman William Penn seconded and the vote was unanimous.

To Be Published The only change made which was argued about so long at the March 6 meeting, stipulates that 1500 square feet of lot space must be available in addition to the 6000 square feet required for duplexes whenever the owner of a duplex building already constructed, wishes to change its construction to provide space for a third family. An additional family or house-keeping unit may be added to a duplex which is to be built in the future for each 2000 square feet of lot area in excess of 6000 square feet. The new zoning plan and map will be published officially soon in The Register.

NEW BLUE BOOK ON CALIFORNIA ARRIVES

Among the recent state publications new on the shelves of the Santa Ana Library is the new California Blue Book—the first since 1932—it was announced today by Miss Ethel Walker, librarian.

The new book contains short biographies and photographs of all state officers and legislators in addition to information concerning the officials in other various types of government.

Besides the statistical data, brief summaries of historical events, state buildings and items of general interest are included in this year's issue.

Another interesting document is the "Legislative Investigative Report" submitted by H. R. Philbrick, commonly known as "the Philbrick report." This is a copy of the report following investigation of 1938 regarding accusations of attempted bribery and corruption in the state legislature. A copy of the State Budget of California is also available at the library, Miss Walker said. The books concerning the state governmental work were the gift of State Senator Harry Westover.

State 'Cancels Account' With Holmes In Wife-Shooting Case

The State of California cancelled its account with Laverne Holmes, of Costa Mesa, and closed its record of the case late yesterday when Superior Judge Homer G. Ames dismissed the kidnapping charge, of which Holmes had once been found guilty by a jury.

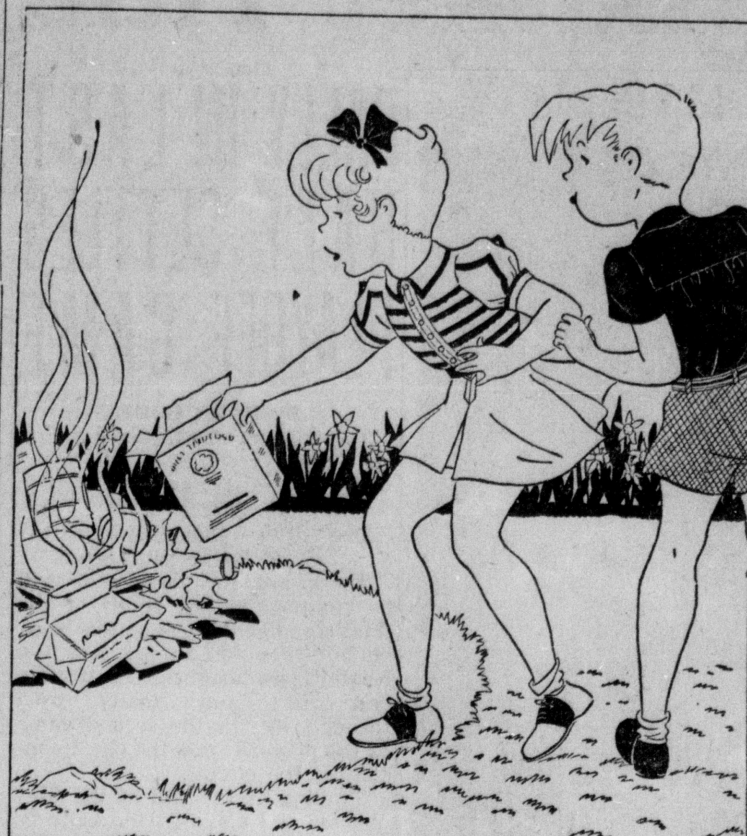

The court dismissed the charge on its own motion, after Assistant District Attorney Joel Ogle had formally advised Judge Ames that the state has no new or additional evidence to present, than that which the court already had ruled was insufficient to support the guilty verdict that had been rendered. Judge Ames had set aside the verdict and granted a new trial, because of insufficiency of the evidence.

Released From Jail
The jury had found Holmes guilty of kidnapping his divorced wife, Virginia, 16, and at the same time had acquitted him of attempting to murder the girl, who was shot twice with a revolver while seated in a car with Holmes just after the alleged kidnapping occurred.

When Judge Ames dismissed the kidnapping charge yesterday Holmes was released from the county jail where he has been confined four and a half months, since the time of the shooting last November 5.

Our Children
By Angelo Patri
THE BAD LOSER

"Mother, can't you make Tom behave himself?" He's something terrible. I'm ashamed of him.

"What's the matter now?"
"He takes the best racquet and the best place and leaves me with an old one and the sun right in my face. Then he says he beat me."

"Nothing of the kind, and you know it. Mother, he footfaults; he inches, he does everything he shouldn't do. Even then I beat him fairly, holding to the rules, and he throws down his racquet, smashes it into bits, and yells so the Brookes hear him half a mile down the road. Either he learns to play decently and take his losses like a sport or I stop playing with him."

"Tom, why can't you learn that a game has rules? That somebody has to lose always?"

"I do. He never gives me a chance."

"That's what you always say. How about in school when you played with Halley the other day and grabbed up the balls and went to the locker room stamping your feet and mowing like a lost dog? Was I cheating you then? And last week when you threw the cards in Uncle Peter's face? Who was doing you dirt then? Mother, he is simply impossible. Nobody will play with him if it can be helped. He has only himself to blame." And Big Brother's righteousness had its big day.

Nine-year-old boys are usually beyond the childish stage of "Me first," at least beyond expressing it. I believe that nobody ever gets over wanting to be First, but most of us learn to accept a share of the honors and put a good face on our failures. Children who are violent losers are still dwelling in infancy, and the only thing to be done is to tell them so and refuse to play with them until they can take a more grown-up attitude.

Of course someone must come to their rescue and play with them, conditionally—usually mother. "I don't blame them for not wanting to play with you. You are so babyish about it. You can't always win. You have to learn the game. I'll play with you if you like. But remember, I am going to beat you if I can, and I more than likely can because I've played more than you have. And you have to take it without making even a face about it." He has to be trained in this as in other things.

It is not wise, usually, to let a child win a game. When he is outclassed he should be given points enough to give him a sporting chance to win. It isn't fair to beat him on an uneven basis—an experienced player against a beginner. Handicap him and give him a chance and then beat him fairly. This arrangement works much better than the old way of meeting all comers on an even footing.

And teach a child that the formal handshake, the pleasant smile, the congratulations to the winner are the screen the loser places between him and pity. Nobody wants to be pitied as a loser, so up goes the screen of formal manners. The loser feels had just the same. He can have that much satisfaction, and the idea will make him feel better about the whole business.

Mr. Patri has prepared a special booklet (No. 302) entitled, "Obedience," in which he tells parents how to cope with the difficult problems of disobedience. Send for it, enclosing ten cents. City to Build Locker Room For Bowling Greens

A $200 locker room structure for visiting lawn bowling green fans will be erected soon adjacent to the Santiago park lawn bowling green as the result of an action by city council last night on motion of Councilman Ernest H. Layton, park commissioner, seconded by Councilman Plummer Bruns. Sixty-eight names were on a petition asking that the locker room building be erected.

The Santa Ana Lawn Bowling club has affiliated with the Southern California Lawn Bowling association, the petitioners pointed out, and the locker rooms should be ready for visits from outside clubs. The building, to cost no more than $200, will be built under supervision of Dale Griggs, park superintendent, of frame and rock construction. It will be 16 feet by nine and one-half feet in dimensions, according to plans. Layton said the lawn bowling fans would pay for installation of lockers.

SAINT RECORDS IN JEOPARDY

Coach "Pinky" Greene of Santa Ana high school's track squad gives a necktie or a pair of socks to every Saint athlete who cracks a school record under official conditions.

Greene says he hopes his disciples keep him "almost broke" this year. They may not go that far but chances are the red-headed Iowan will do quite a bit of shopping before the first of June.

One all-time Saint mark already has gone by the boards. Little Dick Roehm, a sophomore, lowered the school's Class C standard for the 100 yard dash from 11 seconds to 10.8. The smaller men of Class B and C are likely to smash other records when the weather warms up along with league competition.

Chief interest, of course, is centered on the efforts of the bigger fellows in the varsity division. Saint records are uniformly good in Class A, no doubt about that.

For instance, Ramblin' Ray Cartwright's 1:56.6 half-mile still stands as a Southern California prep mark, and nobody is touching Harold Breedings' 4:29.4 mile or Paul (Jumping) Jacques' 6:4 high jump.

Nevertheless, Coach Greene figures at least four of the school's all-timers are in jeopardy: 100, 220, 440 and relay.

Most likely to go is the 440. Howard Elliott ran 51.6 last season and he's still in school. Elliott does not run well in big fields but some day, when conditions are just right, he'll get under 51, and perhaps crowd the 50-second figure.

Wayne Piper turned the 220 in 21.8 at Huntington Beach Saturday but he finished second so it didn't count. You have to be a winner in a track event to get credit for a record. Piper might duplicate that time and break Harvey Bear's record that was made in 1927 when Bear was having those "photo finishes" with Frank Wyckoff.

Bear's 9.9 mark in the 100, also established back in '27, is none too secure with Jerome Duffy, Piper and Elliott all crowding even time. Duffy has been beating his teammates in early workouts, which augurs well for the big meets of May since he is known as a slow starter.

Duffy, son of the veteran Elks' employ, teams with Piper, Duffy and Leo Mader on a relay team that will threaten the school record every time out. Already they've done 1:32.1, only seven-tenths of a second off the old mark.

The high school's records follow:

BEAVERS CARD 4 CAMP GAMES AT FULLERTON

(By United Press)
FULLERTON—Portland player Seattle today in the first of four games crowded into "get-away" week. The Beavers play the Rainies in Anaheim today, again here Thursday, and at Anaheim Friday. On Saturday they meet Hollywood here in the last camp game. The Beavers go to Visalia to play Oakland next Tuesday and Wednesday en route to the league opener in Sacramento April 1.

ANAHEIM—"Kewpie" Barrett and Paul Gregory were named to pitch for Seattle today against Portland in a resumption of their exhibition series. Third Baseman Dick Gyselman is out of the hospital recovering from an attack of gallstones and will be back in a suit within a week.

LOS ANGELES—Los Angeles went back to its own league, meeting Sacramento in an exhibition today, after taking a 9-4 drubbing yesterday from the Chicago Cubs. Billy Herman and Phil Cavaretta each knocked homers with bases loaded.

HOLLYWOOD—With Movie Lover Robert Taylor pitching the first ball, the Hollywood Stars of the Pacific Coast league play the Chicago White Sox in Gilmore stadium today. Hollywood's hurlers picked for the game were Bill Fleming and Rugger Ardizola.

RIVERSIDE—The Sacramento Solons, meeting Los Angeles at Ontario today, are ready now for the 1939 season opener. Manager Ben Borgmann announced. He said the only regular still not in shape is infielder Art Garbail, who reported late. The battle for shortstop between Frank Moorehouse and Pat Ankenman was settled with both men retained.

SEBRING, Fla.—The New York Yankees play their first minor league exhibition opponent of the year when they come here today to meet the International league farmhands, the Newark Bears. In nine games against major leaguers, the Yankees have won five and lost four. They beat the Boston Bees 6-5 yesterday after a double play error by the Bees.

CLEARWATER, Fla.—Brooklyn's Dodgers try again tomorrow against the Cards, to whom they dropped a 5-0 decision yesterday. Despite losing, Dodge Manager Leo Durocher, wore a smile because Doleph Camilli, a third home run, the Cards' Johnny Mize batted a brace of four-baggers while Enos Slaughter and Mickey Owen got one. It was the Cards' sixth victory in nine exhibition games, and the Dodgers' third loss in six.

BATON ROUGE, La.—The New York Giants take their last workout today in preparation for the Philadelphia Athletics' two game invasion. The Giants scored easily over the A's in their series two week-ends ago. They were expected to report within a few days to report within a few days. Miles has held out for a slice of the $25,000 the A's paid Chattanooga for him.

NEW ORLEANS—Signing of Lyn Layne, Cleveland Indian shortstop, today left two of the Tribe outside of the tepee. Earl Averill and Willis Hudlin, Hudlin's holdout was caused more concern that Averill's as the Tribe is surfeited with topnotch outfielders.

LAKE CHARLES, La.—Manager Connie Mack concentrated today on the minor league players, the last remaining holdout on the Philadelphia roster, following acceptance of terms by pitcher Leroy Earl Farnelle, who was expected to report within a few days. Miles has held out for a slice of the $25,000 the A's paid Chattanooga for him.

NEW BRAUNFELS, Tex.—Norman Dease, rookie brought from the minors with apparently no thought that he would gain a regular berth, appeared today to have clinched the Philadelphia Phillies if he can bring his defense to anything like the caliber of his hitting.

OREGON, OKLAHOMA TANGLE IN FINALS

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—University of Oregon, holders of the Pacific Coast conference basketball title, and University of Oklahoma, representatives of the Missouri valley's Big Six, meet on Treasure Island tonight for the Western regional championship of the National Collegiate Athletic association's title tournament.

The team that wins will journey east to Chicago to play Ohio State, Eastern regional winner, for the National championship March 27.

Oregon and Oklahoma came through semi-final games at the Golden Gate International Coliseum last night with impressive displays of fast-breaking basketball.

Oregon, playing the windup of a doubleheader, dropped a stubborn University of Texas team, Southwest conference representative, 56-41, after a close first half. Oklahoma put out Utah State Aggies, Rocky mountain area leaders, 50-39, in the opener.

Second of a series of stories from spring training camps.

BY HARRY GRAYSON
(NEA Service Sports Editor)
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—When Willie Schaeffer, the old fighter, applied for the trainer's post with the New York Giants some years back, the late John McGraw asked him what he would do if a baserunner broke his leg sliding into second.

"I'd call a doctor," replied Schaeffer.

He got the job. One of the more important things a baseball trainer must know is when his work ends and that of the doctor begins.

The baseball trainer's work differs from that of the college trainer in that he is not concerned about a building program. He deals with mature athletes.

The baseball trainer's task is to get . . . and keep . . . 25 charges on a plane of normal living that enables them to go through six weeks or more of training in a highly-specialized game and a 154-game schedule lasting from mid-April until early October.

While the good ball player must be alert and his muscles attuned at all times, his training program must not be too rigid. Severe training over a protracted period frequently causes combatants to go stale over the long championship route.

DIET, FEET, BLISTERS
TRAINER WORRIES
Most major league trainers today are graduate osteopaths. Those who are not, have made a keen study of the ball player's bones, muscles and nerve centers . . . and of more brittle parts.

Several, notably Denny Carroll of the Detroit Tigers, are renowned bone-setters.

A trainer's principal concern in the spring are diet, feet and blisters. The skin is soft and tender after a winter of inactivity. The trainer keeps an eagle eye peeled for cuts, abrasions and scrapes. There is more danger of infection in the semi-tropical climate of the camps.

Limping players or those battling and throwing with blistered hands lose co-ordination and timing which may be difficult to recover.

Sudden overheating under a hot sun in the middle of the day develops abnormal thirst. After drinking too much cold water, players frequently get so they can't look at solid food.

Erle Painter of the Yankees has a pep cocktail for this sort of patient. It is the beaten up yolk of an egg in orange juice sprinkled with nutmeg.

True test of a trainer is the care of arms. He frequently traces cause of complaints to idiosyncrasies of deliveries . . . uncovers pitching faults the correcting of which eliminates the soreness.

RETIRING EARLY WOULD HELP A LOT
Dr. Harrison J. Weaver of the St. Louis Cardinals says players could cut the trainer's work in half if they would retire at 10 o'clock each night and wear an ordinary undershirt with quarter-length sleeves at all times . . . even when asleep. His theory is that muscles often are chilled when players toss off bed covers while asleep.

Lon Warneke, great right-hand pitcher of the Cardinals, asserts improper dress off the field causes as many sore arms as are developed on it.

"Horses are walked and cooled out after a race," explains Warneke, "but many players, steaming hot after a game or workout, hop under a shower and hasten out in the cool air before their pores have had time to close."

Trainer Painter of the Yankees believes there are more appendicitis operations in baseball than in any other line of endeavor . . . blames it on cold drinks in hot stomachs.

In the early training stages, most clubs now take only one workout . . . taking advantage of the noonday sun. The Yankees work only two hours . . . from 11 to 1.

The clubs that still take two workouts, which include the Cardinals, start at 10 a. m., stop at 11:30 for lunch, and continue for another hour and a half starting at 1:45.

Although his club does this, Dr. Weaver of the Red Birds opposes it, and frankly tells you that, in his opinion, it is done by Sam Breadon and Branch Rickey simply because they have put out considerable money to bring 50 players to St. Petersburg and want to see some action for their money.

MCCARTHY CLAIMS ONE WORKOUT ENOUGH
But Joe McCarthy of the Yankees and other managers hold that if a club puts everything in its first workout, it will only soldier and get little or nothing out of the second. So why not work a little longer in one setting and call it a day?

"Doc" Painter of the Yankees and other first class trainers anticipate injuries. Painter contends that he can tell whether a baserunner has strained his knee or ankle upon seeing him slide or whether an outfielder has pulled a muscle in throwing while off base.

Most modern players report with little excess weight, and the average will lose from six to 10 pounds in a spring workout and put it right back on.

Dietary vary. Some players require more red meat than others. The day of drowning an athlete in liniment is past. Liniments are still used for heating and cooling, but sparingly.

The trainer chiefly works with electric heating apparatus of different penetrations. This and skillful manipulation are the more important things.

Baseball training on the field is about the same everywhere. McCarthy of the Yankees brings his pitchers and entire club along a bit slower than the others. Marjoe likes his athletes to get into the swing of things smack dab on opening day. This may leave them a little behind in the spring, but it's his belief that this system keeps them from bogging down in the stretch run.

RALLY IN LAST HALF SETTLES PLAYOFF GAME

By PETE COOY

The winner: T. J. Neal's Sporting Goods.

The loser: Irvine.

The score: 32-26.

The title: Champions of the Y. M. C. A. Basketball league.

These are the facts that will be recorded as the result of the final game of the league this season on but they fail to tell how the Neal cagers fought back from a bad start and finally came through to win the second game of the play-offs and the championship of the circuit.

Trailing at the end of the first quarter and again at the halfway mark, 15-13, it looked as though Irvine was in for a victory. Several minutes after the third quarter was under way Tom Lacy bounced in the goal that for the first time in the game placed the Neal five on an even footing with Irvine. Art Yount meshed a charity toss and Irvine was out in front by one point.

Lanky Bob Blanchard made a free shot count, and again tied the score. At this point the game really got going. "Chuck" Denio drew an easy under shot and sent Neals into the lead and Blanchard duplicated to make the score 20-16. Yount netted a one-handed push shot from the back of the foul line to cut the Neal lead to two points. Blanchard flipped a touch one over his head but L. Smith potted a long one to keep the Neal lead to a field goal as the third quarter ended.

As the final frame started, Lacy boosted a one-hander to send Neal's into a one-point lead only to have Joe McChesney retaliate. Then Lacy again found the hoop. Blanchard sank two free throws and Denio dropped in a fast one to make the score 30-22. That was the ball game.

Lineups:

Neal's (32) (26) Irvine
Lacy (3) (5) Herron
M. Beal (2) (5) F. (5) Linker
Clark (2) (5) (5) Yount
Denio (10) (5) (2) McChesney
Substitutions: Neal's—S. Beal, Blanchard (2). Irvine—Ables (2), Smith (4).

PLAN BOWLING TOURNEY HERE

Open to all rollers with established averages, the second annual Orange County Championship Bowling tournament will be held all next week at the Santa Ana academy, 406 West Fourth street. The affair will be conducted under handicap conditions.

Entries close Friday night, according to Manager Carl Johnson. Competition is scheduled in five-man teams, doubles and singles, each to be bowled "across the house", one game to each pair of alleys. There will be 10 prizes for every event.

All-events champion of 1938 was Ernie Ashland, of Santa Ana, who won The Register trophy. Ashland started with 266, aggregated 1806 for his nine games.

Other defending champions are the Main Cafeteria, teams; Ashland, open singles; Henry Schlueter and "Chuck" Rummell, open doubles; Ruth Ryan, junior singles; Ruth Ryan and Erv Koth, junior doubles; Ruth Ryan, women's all-events and Ted Cook, junior all-events.

Succeeds Jock

New football coach at Pittsburgh, succeeding Jock Sutherland, is Charley Bowser, above, who was an All-American center at Pitt under "Pop" Warner. Bowser formerly coached at Grove City and Bowdoin, and twice was Sutherland's assistant at Pitt.

PITTSBURGH—(UP)—Charles W. Bowser stepped into big-time football coaching today with a three-year contract at the University of Pittsburgh. Pitt's board of trustees at the same time opened an investigation of athletic turmoil at the school.

Bowser has been in private business for the past year, but has 15 years of coaching experience, including two terms as assistant at Pitt and head coaching positions at two small colleges.

Dr. John Bain (Jock) Sutherland, who was Pitt's coach 15 years, quit March 4 because of "intolerable" conflict between his athletic department and the university administration.

After approving the Bowser contract, which reportedly carries an annual salary of $7500, the trustees appointed seven of their members to an investigation committee. This was at the request of Chancellor John G. Bowman.

Only a few hours before, Mayor Cornelius Scully, a Pitt trustee, had issued an open letter denouncing the "great god hush" at Pitt and demanding that the board remove any "cause for criticism."

Two other developments marked the aftermath of Sutherland's resignation. The Pitt Alumni Council adopted a resolution regretting "that our university . . . should suffer conditions to exist which rendered it impossible for him (Sutherland) to continue to serve it"; and Don Saunders, secretary of the General Alumni association, resigned because "my services to the association are no longer of value because I have become increasingly unsympathetic to some policies of the university administration which I believe to be detrimental to the best interests of the school and alumni."

Bowser conferred today with applicants for jobs as assistants. One man believed certain to be on the staff was Albert (Luby) De-meolo, Panther captain in 1929.

Bowser learned his football under "Pop" Warner at Pitt in 1920, 1921 and 1922. He broke into coaching as an assistant at Grove City college.

There is nothing he does wrong on the ball field. He hits often and he hits hard; he hits in the clutch and he hits in the money series (his world series batting average is .301); his arm is so good that it chills base runners with fear; he has a long, antelope stride that enables him to cover as much ground as any outfielder in league.

Box Office Favorite
But there is another factor to consider when you try to pick the most valuable piece of baseball property. Will people lay dough on the line to see him; will they say "let's go out and watch DiMaggio"? Instead of "let's go out and see the Yankees? Yes they will. Some time ago the Yank box office officials were puzzled by the great number of large, old-style bills they were taking in at the turnstiles. That type of bill had been out of general circulation for years.

Finally, someone hit upon the answer. Persons of Italian ancestry around New York were digging into money that they had been hoarding in old shoe boxes and under mattresses for years. They were spending their money to see DiMaggio play ball.

DiMaggio would be the man for you to buy all right. Just try and do it. (Copyright 1939 by United Press)

YANKEE STAR THRILLS WITH POWER, GRACE

BY HARRY FERGUSON

(United Press Sports Editor)
TAMPA, Fla. — If you were handed a gunny sack stuffed with $100 bills and sent on a shopping tour to buy the most valuable ball player in the game today, who would you bring back?

Maybe you would go for Bob Feller. Aunt Eustace probably would seriously consider Jimmy Foxx and there would be plenty of people who would settle for Johnny Vander Meer. But take it from the ball players—and they ought to know—you would be a sucker to come home with anybody except Joseph Paul DiMaggio, jr. The young center fielder of the New York Yankees not only has the dash and power that lure the customers, but he also is a ball player's ball player.

Hank Gowdy Talks
We were sitting along the Cincinnati bench the other day when the Yankees came over from St. Petersburg to play an exhibition game with the Reds and we got to passing the time of day with wise old Hank Gowdy, the Cincinnati coach who has seen ball players come and go for more years than shall be mentioned in this essay. The Yankees were taking batting practice and an argument broke out among the Reds as to whether Charlie Keller or Joe Gallagher, Yankee Rookie outfielders, was the better prospect. The voting seemed to be about even, and then up spoke Sergeant Gowdy:

"Forget about both those guys and give that one who's up there taking his cut now. There's a ball player."

We all turned and saw DiMaggio whistling the ball off his bat, driving terrific liners to left and left center and doing it with such ease and grace that he hardly seemed to be working hard. The jaws of the Cincinnati rookies dropped as they watched Joe belt the ball and in a moment heads were wagging in agreement with Gowdy.

Set For Best Season
This is the first season since he entered the big leagues that DiMaggio is ready to start from scratch. Two years ago he suffered a boot burn while taking lamp treatments for an injury. Last season he got a late start because of a salary squabble. But this season he is ready to go and unless Lady Luck frowns on him, it probably will be his biggest year.

There is nothing he does wrong on the ball field. He hits often and he

LATE NEWS FROM ORANGE

WILD FLOWERS ARE TOPIC FOR MEETING

ORANGE, March 21.—Program and decorations for the regular meeting of the Orange Woman's club yesterday at the clubhouse were suggestive of the coming spring flower show on April 13 and 14. The speaker of the day was Jeanne L'Strange Cappell of Laguna Beach, a Chippewa Indian who spent her girlhood in North Central Minnesota near the head waters of the Mississippi river.

The legends of the wild flowers of Minnesota as told to a little Indian girl by her grandmother were related for club members. Legends of the blue flag, the Indian paintbrush, the ghost pipe and the Indian moccasin flower were included in the interesting collection of tales. The speaker brought a vivid picture of Indian life and characteristics to her listeners, stressing the Indian's great love of nature and beauty.

Donald Krueger was soloist, offering "Pale Moon," "Trees" and "Indian Love Call." Mrs. Victor Rees was his accompanist. Mrs. H. O. Russell and Mrs. George Everett Peterson poured tea at a table centered with an Indian scene, arranged by Mrs. Peterson. A similar miniature scene was on the mantle in the lobby and small birch bark canoes and Indian figures were used with lakes and pine trees.

Others serving on the hostess committee were Mesdames H. F. Taylor, Paul Nelson and Roy Willis. Mrs. Shippee, president of the Garden section, was program chairman and Mrs. A. Haven Smith presided. After the program Mrs. Cappell answered many questions regarding Indian life. She wore a costume of soft brown skins decorated with bead work.

Rebekah Lodge Initiates Three

ORANGE, March 21.—Three new members were initiated into the Ruby Rebekah lodge Monday night, Miss Charlotte Barker, Miss Dorothy Swenson and Miss Vivian Blanchard. Noble Grand June Ragdale presided. The charter of the lodge was draped in memory of Edward Noonan.

Delegates were elected to attend the Rebekah Assembly at Oakland in May. Chosen were Mrs. Margaret Housley and Mrs. Eva Barnett. A booster meeting of Rebekahs and Odd Fellows will be held at Anaheim March 31, it was announced, with a program and dancing.

The lodge room was decorated with calla lilies, bridal wreath and snap dragons. Refreshments were served in the banquet room consisting of green gelatin salad and hot rolls. Tables were decorated with ferns and lupine. Mrs. Etta Kirkwood, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Danker, Mrs. Otto Linnert and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Evans were the committee members.

Farm Center To Meet Tonight

ORANGE, March 21.—T. P. Douglas will be the speaker at a meeting of the West Orange Farm Center tonight at the Orange American Legion clubhouse. Douglas will speak on his work as county welfare director. Of especial interest is the announcement that the Orange County Farm Bureau chorus will sing. Frank Pierce former director of the chorus and now state director, will be soloist.

The meeting place was changed from the Farm Bureau building to the American Legion clubhouse in order to accommodate the large group expected to be present.

Robert A. Goetz will preside. Women of the center are planning to give a surprise skit. Meat, butter and rolls will be furnished by the center and each person attending is to bring a covered dish. Dinner will be served at 6:30 p. m. and the program will follow.

Two Injured In Auto Accident

ORANGE, March 21.—Two residents of Orange were involved in a minor accident at the intersection of West Central avenue and 19th street, Newport Beach, Saturday, according to a report at the Newport Beach police station. Howard Sipherd, 26, 921 West Chapman avenue and Grace L. Johnson, 207 North Glassell street, collided at that corner. Sipherd was driving a truck and according to the report filed at the Newport station, the car driven by Miss Johnson sideswiped the rear end of the truck. No one was injured and both vehicles were driven away on their own power.

CHAPTER TO MEET

ORANGE, March 21.—Scepter chapter, O. E. S. will meet Thursday night in the Masonic temple and after a short business meeting will go to Anaheim to attend the annual "party night" of Garden Grove chapter, which meets in the I. O. O. F. hall of that city. Mrs. Iva Reeves Lee, worthy matron, will preside.

DeMolays Attend Church In Body

ORANGE, March 21.—Approximately 55 DeMolay members and their mothers attended church services in a body at the First Presbyterian church Sunday morning.

The mothers and sons gathered in the chapel and entered in a group, occupying the center section of the church. They were ushered by Howard Moore, newly elected master counselor of the Orange chapter; Tom Powell and Wayne Smith.

During the service, Dr. Robert B. McAulay, pastor of the church, gave a brief resume of the life of Jacques DeMolay. The day marked the annual devotion day of the DeMolay order, set on the nearest Sunday to March 18.

Scepter Social Circle Meets

ORANGE, March 21.—Meeting a week earlier than is usual, Scepter social circle of the local chapter of the Eastern Star met Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Dan Gruwell on North Handy street. Co-hostesses were Mrs. J. E. Horton, Mrs. Linnie Stanton and Mrs. Rae Bunch.

A cheerful open fire made a pleasant setting for the games of Chinese checkers, auction, contract and pinochle which were played. Later the hostesses served refreshments on individual trays. Bouquets of sweetpeas were used in decorating.

Mrs. Cora Kolkhorst, the president, conducted a short business meeting. The change in meeting date was due to the reception to be held for Associate Grand Matron Helen Louise Edwards of Fullerton next Monday evening at Santa Ana.

Others present were Mesdames Margaret Murphy, Viola Tyrrell, Angeline Courtney, W. J. Rice, Pauline Towle, Jeannette Jacobs, Tillie McBride, Etta Kirkwood, Augusta Hayes, Lillian Bishop, Mary Thomas, Emma Honnadel, Roxanna Robinson, N. J. Whitney, Martha Stinson, Orene Foster, Edith Farmer, Laura Leake, Freda Garber, Millie Stinson, Edith Knesel, M. Rodgers, Audrey Peterson, Mae Terry, Cora Kolkhorst, and a visitor, Mrs. Dorothy Lord.

ORANGE PERSONALS

ORANGE, March 21.—J. A. Willets and daughter, Miss Mabel Willets, returned Saturday from a trip to Arizona, Grand Canyon, the Painted Desert and Boulder Dam. The Willets live on South Main street.

Miss Estella Campbell returned Saturday from Des Moines, Ia., St. Louis, Mo., and Carthage that state. Miss Campbell went east to accompany her aunt, Mrs. Minnie Pugh here. Mrs. Pugh will establish her home in Orange. While in the middle west Miss Campbell spent several days in the home of her nephew, F. C. Perkins, son of Mrs. S. A. Perkins, North Olive street. Perkins is one of the officials of the General Electric lamp factory at Warren, Ohio.

CHURCH WOMEN MEET

ORANGE, March 21.—The Orange council of church women will meet Friday from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. at the home of Mrs. R. W. Jones, in El Modena. A potluck dinner will be served at noon.

ECONOMIST SPEAKS BEFORE MEN'S CLUB

ORANGE, March 21.—While controlled production may increase profits temporarily, it reduces business generally over a period of time, declared Dr. J. Luther Leonard, professor of economics of the University of Southern California, at a meeting of the Orange Men's club at the Trinity Episcopal church last night.

Cutting down the volume of production cuts down the volume of business in interrelating businesses and industries, the speaker pointed out. If, for example, the volume of fruit is cut down, railroad shipments and all work connected with the fruit is of a necessity cut down, he said, reducing work for large numbers of persons engaged in the business.

Leonard declared that the business outlook could not brighten until affairs of the world become more settled. His topic was "Price Fixing and the Business Outlook." Gordon X. Richmond presided and a period of general discussion followed the talk. John Stout, talented young violinist, gave solos, accompanied by David Craighead of Santa Ana.

Orange Dogs Win High Honors

ORANGE, March 21.—Dogs instead of horses had their day at Santa Anita over the week-end, with Ce-Nel kennel-bred chows from Orange scoring sweeping victories in the third annual Santa Anita Kennel club dog show.

Exhibited by Mr. and Mrs. Cecil J. A. Maibach, Champion Wulee Brilliantine went best of breed in the chow division of the show, carrying off a trophy and ribbon for his showing.

It was a fitting climax that Wulee should go best of breed, because his daughter, Tonkee Brilliantine, owned by L. H. Kendall, of Wilmington, took best opposite sex in the show.

And preceding that, three of Wulee's sons—Sing Fu Brilliantine, belonging to D. C. Dillingham, of Orange, went first novice; Sunny Peeking, belonging to Creighton Bigelow, of Pasadena, went first limit red and Impee Brilliantine, belonging to Kendall, went second in the open class.

As a result of their prize winning showings, the Ce-Nel kennel-bred chows came home with five handsome trophies, in addition to a flock of ribbons.

COUNTY OF ORANGE State Records Bumper Baby Crop; $124 IN TAXES Orange County Births Total 2134

SACRAMENTO, March 21.—(UP)—Motor bus and truck taxes amounting to $5,545 have been apportioned to counties for the year 1938, State Controller Harry B. Riley announced today.

The figure represents half the total taxes collected. The other half goes to the state highway fund. The collections represent delinquent taxes levied on gross receipts of trucks and busses.

Orange county received as its share $124.90.

Because the levies are for delinquent taxes, Riley said he expected the amount would be reduced each year. Collections for 1938 were 58 per cent under the previous year, he said.

Piano owners should avoid rapid temperature changes, refrain from standing the piano against an outside wall during winter, keep room air reasonably moist, hang a bag of mothballs inside it during the summer, and have it tuned by an expert twice annually.

Alpine Rate Up
The increase in Alpine county, while numerically insignificant, was in comparison with 1937, alarmingly high, 50 per cent.

There were three births in 1938, and only two the year preceding. Of the total number of births, 83,864—82.6 per cent—were of the white race. There were 12,908 Mexican babies born and 1,693 Negroes, 451 Indians, 545 Chinese, 1528 Japanese, 444 Filipino, and 184 of all others.

THREE MEN FINED ON LIQUOR COUNTS

Three men who were arrested at Sunset Beach recently by officers of the State Board of Equalization and the sheriff's office on liquor charges were given fines when they appeared before Judge Chris Pann in Huntington Beach justice court yesterday.

Robert G. Trussell, 32 and Sam Caruso, 33, were accused of selling liquor without a license, with having liquor without the proper excise stamps, selling liquor after 2 a. m., having a gambling device in their possession and selling without a sales tax permit. They pleaded guilty with each man fined $125 and given a 90-day jail sentence suspended for one year.

Louis J. Wallow, 29, paid a $20 fine for having liquor without excise stamps. According to officers the liquor was found in Waller's car.

Grant Concession In Santiago Park

The cry of "Peanuts, popcorn, candy, chewing gum and pop!" will be echoing soon through the hills and vales of Santiago park, it was decided by city council last night in putting a professional tinge to the park diamond. Action was taken upon recommendation of the forestry board.

Scoutmaster Earl L. Boyes of Troop 31, Boy Scouts, and his gang were granted permission to sell peanuts, popcorn, candy and soft drinks in the bleachers only during ball games between April 1 and Sept. 30. The permission was granted on condition an adult supervisor be present at all times while the sales are being made and that all profits be used exclusively for the troop's aid.

Plan To Erect Trestle for P. E.

To permit digging an open ditch beneath the Pacific Electric tracks at Coast highway and at the mouth of the Santa Ana river where the outfall sewer line has outlet, and laying the necessary 42-inch cast iron pipe, a temporary $1000 trestle will be constructed for the tracks at once at the city's expense. City council last night adopted the necessary resolution approving an agreement with the Pacific Electric whereby the railroad will build the trestle, the city to pay the bill. Heretofore, to lay the pipe line at the spot, engineers tunneled beneath tracks but it is feared now that large rocks buried beneath tracks would wreck tunneling equipment or cause delay.

Utilities Pay Franchise Taxes

Both the Southern Counties Gas company and Southern California Edison company submitted their 1938 franchise tax money to the city council last night in the total amount of $7015.58. The money was sent to the city treasury.

The gas company submits two per cent of its gross receipts in Santa Ana for the year, the power company one-half of one per cent of gross receipts here. The franchise taxes, of which the gas company paid $4601.40, and the power company, $2414.18, are for use of the public thoroughfares by the gas and the power companies.

Eight Rescued As Boat Overturns

YUMA, Ariz., March 21.—(UP)—Eight persons returned here today from a Sunday motorboat ride on Lake Haughtlin, across the state line in California, and told a story of being saved from possible drowning when their boat capsized on a turn.

The rescue was made by several Yuma high school students who were picnicking nearby and had two rowboats.

Rescued were Mr. and Mrs. Lee Benton, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Campanzo and their infant daughter, all of Yuma, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Rivera of Andrade, Cal., and their infant son.

Tummy Trouble

Here's an object lesson for mothers who want to teach youngsters what not to swallow. All these pins, buttons, and whatnot came from the tummy of 18-month-old Joanne Worth in a Chicago operation. Joanne is wondering why she thought this diet so tasty.

CONCERT SET FOR MARCH 30

Friends and patrons of the Santa Ana Federal Symphony orchestra's concerts have a musical treat in store for them in the concert scheduled for March 30, it was announced today by Leon Eckles, who is again to conduct after a two-month absence. He announced the Tchaikowsky symphony in B-minor would be one of the program features.

Despair Expressed
"The 'Pathétique' symphony, as it is commonly known," he said, "has maintained a popular inter-gang almost unparalleled in the annals of musical history, for it expresses the dark despair and heart-rending social suffering of a people pictured in the world of Tolstoy and Gorgy."

"Some critics think that the tone of the symphony is one of hopeless pessimism, but there is throughout an apparent exultation as though the composer life as he found it with all its hopes and despairs. There have been many requests for this score since the orchestra first performed it months ago, and we are happy to include it again on the program."

Overture By Brahms
The complete program will be comprised of the overture to "The Impresario," a comedy in one act composed by Mozart, and the "Tragic" overture by Brahms. From the works of Frederick Smetana, foremost among Bohemian composers, Conductor Eckles has selected "Die Moldau" as the closing number, one of a cycle of six tone-poems which Smetana entitled "My Fatherland."

Popular prices will prevail for the concert which will be played at the high school auditorium, beginning at 8:15 p. m.

The group of persons named to lend advice and support to a move to have the Southern Pacific railroad tracks in the northern part of the city removed as a safety move, was dignified last night with an official title, the Southern Pacific Track Removal commission. WASHINGTON, March 21.—One official inside version is that Chamberlain, Daladier and Roosevelt had some inside information about what Hitler was going to do . . . considered it inevitable . . . therefore were not surprised.

They may have known it in the sense that, as all Czech fortresses had been delivered up to Hitler with the Sudetenland, everyone knew he could take the rest whenever he decided to break his promise. Apparently they did not know he would break his word right after the Ides of March, or even this year.

That Chamberlain was caught flatfooted is evident in the fact that he was at that very moment publicizing a trade rapprochement with Germany, sending a mission to Berlin. And Mr. Roosevelt told his press conference this was not the crisis he hinted at before he started his naval cruise. (He did not say so, but he merely knew then both Mussolini and Hitler were to bring up new troop classes; the crisis he expected apparently was that still threatened by Mussolini in the Mediterranean.)

They were all outwitted again.

Chamberlain and Daladier are supposed here to have a definite plan of stopping the dictators at the point where they have expected the next crisis—in the Mediterranean. But no one here believes they will or can do anything effective about Rumania or Memel.

Britain, France and the U. S. seem to have been cutting Hitler where it hurts, in the bread basket, even before the U. S. Treasury declared its 25 per cent tariff penalty against Nazi goods. Their buying in Germany has fallen off this way (commerce department figures in round millions of dollars):

United Kingdom	France	U. S.
1937	174	126
1938	141	87

Hitler's purchases from Britain and France have not declined as much, and have increased in the United States. (He has been buying mostly factory machinery here that he cannot get elsewhere.) The Hitler buying report shows (in millions of dollars):

United Kingdom	France	U. S.
1937	124	63
1938	113	57

Tommy Corcoran left town unannounced last week for a vacation. As he was leader of the palace insurrection against tax appeasement, the Morgenthau-Hanes appears are cheering.

They also have other more definite indications that the President may be on their side.

The excellent inside lobbying job which saved much of Mr. Ickes' interior department appropriation from congressional economizing was done by his assistant, the ex-Congressman William Beiter. As an ex-member he had the privilege of the House Floor, and used it.

What might be called the gravy bloc of the House is a group of western congressmen, numbering upward of 25, which meets each Saturday morning, and maps plans for getting gravy. By ladling their votes to each other, they have become a tremendous power against economy.

How they sometimes work is illustrated by the story of one man who wanted a certain new national park constructed in his state. It was a project so far-fetched that even the spending Ickes park service would not okay it. So the man went to FDR, convinced him that WPA workers might better be assigned to cleaning up that area than raking leaves. It worked. WPA spent a lot of money cleaning up the area, so the park service could have no more objection about the amount of money involved.

Thus the astute gravyist was able to get park service approval now for an initial $250,000 expenditure in the present interior bill. An ultimate expenditure of $8,000,000 is contemplated.

Consistency has been considered a rather cheap jewel in Washington recently, but it got down to the value of costume jewelry when the 25 per cent anti-Nazi trade penalty was announced.

The treasury took this action on the legal ground that Germany is subsidizing its exports at a time when Agriculture Secretary Wallace was trying to arrange an export subsidy to sell more cotton abroad.

Mr. Wallace and several important cotton officials had called on the President the day before and announced the President was sold on the export subsidy plan because the pending Smith bill would cost too much.

The sauce for the U. S. cotton goose has therefore been labeled

$3102 RAISED BY COUNTY IN INFANTILE PARALYSIS DRIVE

Orange county raised a total of $3102.17 in the 1939 March of Dimes, the annual drive for funds to combat infantile paralysis, according to the announcement today of the chairman, Mrs. W. T. Kirven of Garden Grove and the secretary, Mrs. Eva Copeland of Fullerton.

This gross sum is reduced when from the county's proportionate share of campaign costs comprising advertising, cost of buttons and organization expenses are deducted—representing but 5.45 per cent of the whole. The gross amount was practically double that raised in 1938 and is in excess of all raised in the four years previous to 1938.

Southland Total $126,504. The total amount raised in Southern California was $126,504.97, half of which was sent to the national foundation for its work and half retained in Southern California for work here. The object of the foundation is toward the renewed hope for the time when infantile paralysis shall not be only reduced to an absolute minimum but may be possibly prevented, according to Joseph M. Schenck, California chairman, in his communication to the county chairman announcing the results of the campaign today.

In expressing her appreciation for assistance in the campaign, Mrs. Kirven named all the communities serving in all communities, the school authorities, business houses and civic and social organizations and the press of the county for its generosity of space and contributions.

Schools Raise $680.48. The schools of the county raised $680.48. Mrs. Victor Hupp and Mrs. Guy Maties were chairmen of the school work. Two schools sold 100 per cent of their allocations—at Olive and at Fountain Valley where Richard Harris and Hollis Fitts, respectively, are principals.

The Bank of America under the general chairmanship of Harry Smith, of Fullerton, raised a total of $136.50. The Fox West Coast theaters raised $850.00. For convenience of organization, Orange county was divided into high school districts. Total sums raised in these districts were as follows:

Anaheim Total $333. Anaheim district, Dr. Harold Neslund, chairman, $333.23. This includes $25.20 from Cypress, Mrs. William Rapp, chairman; $10.40 from Los Alamitos, Mrs. Grace Green, chairman; $11.95 from Stanton, Mrs. King Rutledge, chairman.

Brea under the chairmanship of Paul Barber raised a total of $90.11, including $3.60 from Olinda.

Fullerton district under the chairmanship of the Junior Ebell club with Mrs. Albert Launer as advisor, raised $521.88. This includes $96.16 from La Habra, Dr. I. N. Kraushaar and Mrs. Ruby Hungerford, chairmen; $54.50 from Buena Park, Rolland Upton and Mrs. Harold Covey, chairmen; $21.01 from Yorba Linda, Mrs. Sidney L. Chapman, chairman.

Newport Beach under the chairmanship of Mrs. C. Harold Hopkins raised $204.78 including $66.40 from Costa Mesa under the chairmanship of Mrs. Norris Mel-lott.

Garden Grove raised $55.74 under the chairmanship of T. J. Tobias.

Huntington Beach, John Africa, chairman, with Mrs. W. P. Henry in charge of schools, raised $160.52 including $3 from Westminster, Mrs. Myrtle Knouse, chairman; $22.40 from Seal Beach, Mrs. J. H. Signor, chairman; $12.50 from Midway City; Mrs. B. H. Heath, chairman.

Laguna Beach under the chairmanship of Mrs. Roy Ropp, assisted by William Tattersfield, $119.02.

First Work On Santa Ana River Bridge Slated To Begin Today

SLUMS IN SANTA ANA? CITY NAMES GROUP TO INVESTIGATE

Are there slum districts in Santa Ana? Should Santa Ana seek federal aid to erect low-rent homes for those whose earnings are small?

Those were the questions which justified private capital in providing suitable living quarters; that council should resolve to appoint five housing authority members and proceed under the Wagner-Steagall provision. Councilmen Joe P. Smith and William Penn and City Atty. Lew Blodgett were appointed by Mayor C. Rowland as a committee to investigate and report back. Finch declared a county-wide study has been made of the housing situation, that Senator Harry Westover and Jules Markel are among the leaders of the movement for better housing. He thanked council for its action.

"We act under provisions of Assembly Bill 1500 enacted by the 1937 legislature, re-enacted in special session of 1938, signed by the governor March 21, 1938. The bill provides that a petition signed by 25 residents of a community specifying the need for a low-rent housing project shall be sufficient to empower a city council to appoint a housing authority of five members to serve under the act to secure Wagner-Steagall low-rent housing funds and to proceed under the council or supervisors to undertake slum clearance projects."

The petition set forth that there are unsafe, unsightly, insanitary and congested living accommodations in several sections of the city; tenants cannot be expected to pay rental sufficient to

First work leading to completion of the Santa Ana boulevard bridge across the Santa Ana river was to be started today with the moving in of working equipment, according to an announcement by Councilman Ernest H. Layton at city council meeting last night.

"P. O. Carrer, superintendent for Mitty Brothers company, which has been awarded the contract for the actual bridge construction, assured me personally he would move in on the job Tuesday of this week, bringing a pile driver as part of the first equipment," the councilman said.

Arranges Hiring Carrer said he would obtain laborers from the relief headquarters, Fifth and Ross, and also would hire semi-skilled and skilled workers from that headquarters insofar as possible, according to Councilman Layton. The Mitty bid was $106,305 for the bridge construction.

Another firm will be awarded a bid for roadway approaches in connection with this $145,000 project, made necessary because of last year's March flood.

From the first quarter-cent gasoline tax allocated to Santa Ana for state highway projects, $54,750 will be taken; from state highway gasoline tax funds comes $25,000, and PWA has granted to the city $65,250 for the project.

The original $45,000 grant for Section 1 and does not represent any additional cost.

Seek More Time On Outfall Job

Because additional pumping equipment to be installed at the settling basins in connection with Section 1 of the joint outfall sewer line, has not arrived yet, city council last night adopted a resolution, asking the state department of public works to allow additional time to complete the installations. The equipment is being bought with some $1200 from

DE MOLAYS END ANNUAL EVENT

Beginning with group pictures at the Masonic Temple in the morning and concluding with attendance at city council meeting last night, the Santa Ana De Molays had one of the fullest, most interesting civic day celebrations ever held here, according to report of Glenn Cave, master counselor.

Following the morning picture-taking each De Molay took over his assignment in an official capacity as city government officer holder or employee, school official or reporter, making up a list of 75 "new employees."

Rev. Owings Speaks Approximately 130 persons, including old and new employees, attended a luncheon at the Masonic hall at noon when Rev. Harry Owings opened the program with a prayer and later spoke briefly on De Molay. Table decorations were red, orange and white, with De Molay emblems in the center. Master Counselor Cave thanked the Mother circle for its part in arranging and preparing the luncheon. Cave introduced Plummer Bruns, president of De Molay advisory committee. Other councilmen also were introduced as was William Dean, Jobs Daughters adviser. Each De Molay introduced the officer holder whose place he had for the day.

Held Kangaroo Court "Kangaroo court" at the city hall provided plenty of afternoon entertainment. Cave thanked the council officially in the evening while the mayor and Councilman Joseph P. Smith responded, Smith moving to extend the boys and their parents a vote of thanks for their interest in Civic Day.

An interesting sidelight to this year's De Molay Civic Day is that numerous motion pictures of the day's activities were taken through the assistance of E. R. Skaggs, Harry Fink, Sam Fink and others, and will be a "live" record of the event.

SEEKS "QUIET TITLE" Suit to quiet title to an interest in Huntington Beach oil lots and an attached drilling lease was filed today in superior court by Ted Miller and Ethel M. Miller against Claude E. McIntyre and other defendants.

On an average, London's Lord Mayor fulfills 1000 public engagements, making the same number of speeches, during his year of office.

Pomona Couple Honored
At Gala Observance
In This City

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Coombs' home, 1119 Louise street was scene of a memorable dinner party Sunday in celebration of the golden wedding anniversary of Mrs. Coombs' parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Coontz of Pomona. The honored couple's sons and daughters, with their families, took part in the observance.

Mr. and Mrs. Coontz were showered with flowers, gifts and congratulations from relatives and interested friends, including Santa Anans who have become acquainted with them during their frequent visits here.

All decorations for Sunday's party suggested the golden wedding day. Centering the dining room table was a large gold and wedding ring circling bride and bridegroom figures on a pedestal. Place cards furthered the same motif, while nutcrackers were fashioned of white petals. Highlight of the dinner interval was a beautiful wedding cake decorated with golden roses and white dove figures. This was served with nut roll ice cream centered with golden wedding bells. Quantities of flowers arranged throughout the room provided an ideal setting for the festivities.

Mr. Berter Moore sang appropriate songs during the afternoon, with Miss Virginia Thomas playing his piano accompaniment.

The marriage of Miss Anna Vada Morris and W. A. Coontz took place March 17, 1889 in Nevada, Mo. Mr. and Mrs. Coontz have lived in Pomona for 35 years. They were accompanied to Santa Ana yesterday by their daughter, Miss Iness Coontz of the home. Others in the party were sons and daughters including Mr. and Mrs. Coombs and their daughters, Barbara, Mary Jo and Janet of this city; Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Coontz and daughter and son, Miss Pauline and Marvin Jr., with their guests, Mr. Moore and Miss Virginia Thomas, Huntington Park; Mrs. Raymond W. Ager of Berkeley; Mr. and Mrs. Leon Hastings and daughter, Betty, Pomona; Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Clevidence and sons, Oscar and Burton, Beverly Hills; Mr. and Mrs. Morris Coontz, Pomona.

An earlier celebration planned by the children of Mr. and Mrs. Coontz was an open house affair Friday afternoon in their Pomona home. More than 150 friends called throughout the day, showering the honored couple with gifts and congratulations.

Surprise Party Given
On 75th Anniversary

Planned as a surprise to Mr. W. Hart on the occasion of his 75th birthday anniversary was a party to which Mrs. Hart welcomed an intimate family group Sunday in their home, 1635 West Eighth street. The couple's four sons, one daughter and their families took part in festivities.

Members of the party were outdoors much of the day as an exciting game of horseshoe pitching progressed. Serving of an inviting dinner at 3:30 o'clock included two pretty birthday cakes with the dessert course. An informal musical program was enjoyed during the evening.

The family group included Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Shackleton and children, Ruth, Duane, Marvin and Marion, Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. R. Hart, Mr. and Mrs. Elvern Hart, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Hart, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hart and children, Myra, Patty, Louise, Richard and Robert, and Mrs. Hart's mother, Mrs. Ada Headlee of this city.

Sewing Club

Southwest Sewing club members held another of their enjoyable meetings late last week in the home of Mrs. B. O. Allen, 1234 South Van Ness avenue. Sewing and chatting sped the informal afternoon hours.

Salad, wafers and coffee were served at tables decorated in green and white. Door prize was won by Mrs. J. P. Newman. Mrs. Herbert Vrooman was a guest of the club. Next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. W. G. Scott, 1204 South Parton street.

Party Night is Enjoyed
By B. P. W. Members

Setting aside only a brief interval immediately following the dinner hour for a few necessary matters of business, Business and Professional Women last night gave themselves over to party gaieties under the leadership of Mrs. Hazel Northcross and members of the finance committee.

Mrs. Edith Thatcher presided over the business session at the Doris Kathryn, during which delegates were elected to the annual convention of Southern District Business and Professional Women's clubs to be held April 15 and 16 at Hotel Del Mar. Mrs. Thatcher will head the list in her capacity as president, and will name her own alternate. Delegates elected were the Misses Janet Humphrey, Ethel Coffman and Isabel Lindsay, with Mrs. Marie Fowler, Mrs. Grace Wolff and Miss Ruth Rowland as alternates.

Two new members were welcomed, the Misses Levenia Scott and Elfreda Biggin, and club members were especially happy to have with them a former president, Mrs. Adelaide Cochran, now of Visalia, who was present with her hostess, Mrs. Calla Novius.

For the games program of the evening, Mrs. Northcross introduced a monopoly, for which several tables of half a dozen players each were formed. Rewards were graceful small desk vases of pottery, each filled with pansies. Receiving the pretty gifts were the Misses Ruby Klingner, Mabel Whiting, Damaris Beaman, Isabel Lindsay, Lana Brokaw, Mesdames Edith Thatcher, Grace Wolff and Esther Schlegel.

Newly-Formed Chapter

Mrs. John Tessmann was speaker, giving a report on the Cause and Cure of War conference in Washington, D. C. Next meeting will be held Thursday, April 20 in Fullerton.

In the group were Miss Helen Aupperle and Miss Ruth Williams, Anaheim; Miss Mary Beasley, Miss Lella Watson and Miss Wells, Santa Ana; Miss Ethel Dwyer, Huntington Beach; Mrs. Dorothy Harding Fraser, Laguna Beach; Miss Ellen Sells, Fullerton; Mrs. Elizabeth Sherred, Placentia; Miss Margaret Squires, Sunset Beach.

Sycamore Past Grands
Assembling articles for a cedar chest to be given away as a grand prize at a meeting of Sycamore Rebekah lodge in April, members of Sycamore Past Noble Grands met Thursday for luncheon in the home of Mrs. Millie West, 2000 South Ross street.

In the absence of both the president, Mrs. Theresa Dunning, and the vice president, Mrs. Catherine Clark, Mrs. Leola Dietrich, junior past president, conducted the meeting. Sharing the event with 23 members were guests, Mrs. Susie Walker, vice grand of Sycamore Rebekah lodge and Mrs. Valerie Crawford, with her infant son.

Hostesses with Mrs. West were Mrs. Bess Stovall and Mrs. Ruth Zabel. They served covered-dish luncheon at tables appointed in St. Patrick motif.

Next meeting will be held Thursday, April 20 in the home of Fern Smith, 1014 West Camille street.

Youthful Hostess
Miss Kathleen King was a charming young hostess Saturday afternoon when she received a half dozen close friends at Danigers for luncheon in celebration of her ninth birthday. The little girl is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George King, 726 North Clement street, Anaheim.

Each of the guests received a gardenia corsage bouquet as a favor. The little girls in their pretty frocks made an attractive picture while seated at the gayly-decorated table, which was centered with yellow daffodils. Individual birthday cakes were served. After luncheon, Miss King and her guests attended the Broadway Theatre, of which Mr. King is manager.

Studio Recital
Presenting more than 30 students in a St. Patrick program, Miss Gloria Gayland entertained late last week in her studio, 418 South Main street.

Young people from 3 to 15 years of age were presented in poems, monologues, songs, ballet and tap dances of wide variety, greatly enjoyed by an audience of most half a hundred parents and friends. Margaret Grinde was at the piano for many of the features.

Refreshments served at the conclusion of the program, continued the Irish theme with shamrocks appearing in decorative details. Assisting hostesses were Mrs. F. H. Mitchell, Mrs. T. A. Roseberry, Mrs. Paulson and Mrs. Linnartz.

Native Daughters Make Plans for Dinner
and Bazaar

Enchiladas and other Spanish foods for which members of Santa Ana parlor Native Daughters of the Golden West have become famous, will be served next Monday night when the Daughters give their annual dinner party in Knights of Columbus hall.

The public is invited to attend the affair, proceeds of which will go to the homeless children's project carried on by the Daughters. Beginning at 6:30 o'clock dinner will be served as guests arrive throughout the evening. Tickets may be secured at the door.

However, for those who wish to form parties or make their reservations in advance, arrangements may be made by telephoning Mrs. W. A. West, 2278-W or Mrs. Walter Hisey, 4489, president of the parlor. All members of the parlor are cooperating in plans for the party, which comes as one of the highlights in the organization's activities for the year.

Awarding of a door prize will come as one of the features of the evening. Adding to the interest of the occasion will be a bazaar offering a variety of household linens, aprons and other articles for sale. Proceeds from this feature, too will go to the homeless children's fund. Sewing club members of the parlor have been working on articles for the bazaar for the past several months.

Assistance League Affairs
Discussed at Luncheon

Flower arrangements yesterday in the Edward M. Hall home, 1901 Heliotrope Drive, especially delighted members of the Assistance League who gathered to enjoy the hospitality of Mrs. Hall and Mrs. Irwin F. Landis.

For their grouped luncheon tables, the hostesses selected shallow bowls of pansies which with their graceful little ivory pottery figurines, were reflected in small mirror bases. About the rooms were many striking flower decorations expressing the skill of Mrs. Edgar Elfstrom, who is deeply interested in flower arrangement classes. One exciting special comment was a grouping of stately calla lilies on a shallow plaque. Another was definitely Japanese in design.

Mrs. Lloyd Chenoweth called a business meeting immediately after the luncheon interval, during which progress of the League was defined by reports read by Mrs. Wilbur Barr, Mrs. Elfstrom and Mrs. Rex Kennedy, on activities, board meeting and League finances, and by Mrs. John Ball on hospital philanthropies.

Of special importance was announcement that the League's Thrift Shop is to open Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in League headquarters on the second floor of the Ramona building, under direction of Mrs. Herbert Miller and her committee.

Thrift Shop is in no sense a rummage sale, for all the articles offered for sale are donated by members with a view to needs of young people, especially of high school and junior college groups. Costumes for day wear, sports, afternoon and evening, are included and the dainty formal frocks may easily be matched by pretty evening sandals, while there are innumerable smart little hats of every description. These sales will continue each Thursday afternoon from 2:30 to 4:30 o'clock, and proceeds will be added to the League's hospital fund.

Members were happy to welcome Mrs. Albert Laurence Ball, of Los Angeles, prominent in that city's League, where one of her major interests is the 9 O'clock Players. As an Orange county property owner, she is frequently in this community, so was made an associate member of the local League.

For their meeting of April 3, members will be entertained by Mrs. Betty McClanahan Scripps and Mrs. Richard Winkler in the home of the former, 1920 Heliotrope Drive.

For "Singing Troubadour"
Week-end guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Harper, 802 South Parton street, were David Howell, "Singing Troubadour" of the eastern radio network, and Al Romaine, Hollywood director of Radio Productions.

David Howell is transferring to the west coast as the singing taxi-cab driver, whose theme song was composed by Miss Dorothy Mayhew, formerly of this city but now of Hollywood, and Lew Hunter. He will sing over Radio KHJ Friday night during a broadcast to be put on at Casino Gardens, Ocean Park, where he will have as his dinner guests, Mr. and Mrs. Harper with their daughter, Miss Mary K. Harper, the latter's manager, Al Romaine, Miss Mayhew, Lew Porter, Johnny Lang, Walter Tetley, Shirley Deane of the "Jones Family" series, Nancy Welford, musical star, and others.

P. T. A. Worker

Mrs. Jerry Phillips is the newly elected president of Tustin Grammar school Parent-Teacher association, succeeding Mrs. O. W. Householder, who is completing her maximum term of two years in this capacity. Mrs. Phillips is also an active member of Tustin Advent Christian church.

Bridal Pair Return
From Trip to Las Vegas

Return of Raymond Hiett and his bride, the former Miss Corinne Hamilton, from their wedding trip to Las Vegas, Nev. gave their friends first news of the quiet rites at which the young couple exchanged vows this past weekend.

The ceremony took place early Sunday morning in the parsonage of Las Vegas Methodist church, with the Rev. Mr. Gilbert officiating. Miss Hamilton, daughter of Mrs. Howard A. Brown, 1234 Cypress avenue, wore a green and gold tulle suit with gold accessories and a corsage bouquet of orchids. As the "something old," she wore a locket made from a 20-franc gold piece which Howard A. Brown brought from France at the close of the World war. The bride's mother wore the locket when she exchanged vows with Mr. Brown 18 years ago.

Miss Ruth Hubbs, maid of honor at Sunday's rites, wore a black suit with rose accessories and a corsage bouquet of gardenias. Carl Allison of Tustin was best man. The two couples visited Boulder Dam before returning home.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Hiett are at home to their friends at 617 North Van Ness avenue. The bridegroom, who is employed with Bridge Construction company in Los Angeles, attended local schools. He is son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hiett of Paularino. His bride, a graduate of Santa Ana High school and of a local beauty college, is employed at Lois Beauty Salon.

Worthwhile Club
Mrs. A. Lagasse's home 818 North Sycamore street was scene of the latest meeting of Worthwhile club. Her sister, Mrs. William Whitehead of the home and Mrs. Sallie Lackey of Richmond, Ky., were guests.

Ten members enjoyed the program, for which Mrs. G. S. McKinney led devotionals. Miss Cathryn Shaw and Mrs. Lagasse read papers on "Immigration."

YOU AND YOUR FRIENDS
In Oceanside Saturday night for the institution of the new auxiliary to Palomar camp, U.S.W.V., a group of Santa Ana camp and auxiliary members remained as over-night guests of Mr. and Mrs. Kincaid, former Santa Ana natives now of Oceanside. In the local party were Messrs. and Mesdames Jack Hinckley, Charles Lindquist, Henry Helmer, C. W. Hannah, Mesdames Ruth Hess, Effie Hawley and Gertrude Rowe.

That Mrs. William H. Moon, 718 Lincoln Drive, is showing much improvement from a major operation which she underwent last week in Mercy hospital, San Diego, was gratifying news learned today by family friends. Her sister, Miss Cora Craig, 817 Riverine avenue, is in San Diego to be with Mrs. Moon during her hospital stay and her convalescence.

Mrs. J. H. Patison and her sister, Mrs. George Smith who recently arrived from her home in Coquille, Ore., are spending several weeks at Lancaster while Mrs. Patison takes special treatments there. Mr. Patison accompanied them north Saturday morning, remaining over the week-end. Mrs. Smith's recent arrival gave the sisters their first opportunity to be together in more than a dozen years.

At Gift Shower

To the equipment of their attractive honeymoon home at 441 South Birch street, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wesley Reither have been able to add many lovely things presented them at showers since their early March wedding in Ontario. But no gifts have been more interesting than the array which fell to their fortunate lot Sunday afternoon, when Mr. Reither's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley C. Reither, entertained in their home at 1116 Halladay street.

It was a very intimate group of relatives and close friends, enjoying hospitality expressed with flowers of unusual beauty. The home gardens had produced sweet peas in vivid colors, and to these were added other flowers from interested friends and neighbors. Assisting Mrs. Reither in hostess details were her sisters, Mrs. A. W. Fullerton and Mrs. J. Leonard Cole of Orange, and Mrs. E. E. Burge of Los Angeles.

Accompanying Mrs. Burge was her daughter, Mrs. Loren Sapp of Los Angeles, while the family group also included Mrs. Emma Carlson of Orange, mother of the senior Mrs. Reither, and the latter's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Carlson, also of Orange, with an uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Johnson of Bell. Joining in the welcome accorded the new bride in the family, were the young people of the home, Earl and Miss Margery Reither.

One large table was laden with gift packages, and the new Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wesley Reither discovered such desirable things as a complete set of china, and other gifts to correspond. These will supplement the many things presented at a series of gift showers given by the bride's church and club associates in Orange.

Home-made cake, ice-cream and coffee were served during the afternoon to the score of guests invited to share the hospitality.

Drama Section

When members of Woman's club Drama section met Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. H. R. Jones, 1009 1/2 North Broadway, they were directed in play practice by Mrs. Julia Constance Layman, who also gave a talk on "Words and Voice."

Twelve members and a guest, Mrs. Herbert Hughes took part in the event. Next meeting will be held Tuesday, March 28 at 7:30 p. m. in the home of Mrs. E. M. Waycott, 1508 English street.

Members of Department drill team of Calumet auxiliary U. S. W. V. are completing plans for attending the reception to be held tonight in Los Angeles Patriotic hall, complimenting National President Maude Cotes Whitlock of Tacoma, Wash., now in the Southland on her official visit. She is accompanied by Department President Clara Fowler of San Francisco, and a succession of banquets and receptions honor their presence.

On Saturday night both took prominent part in the institution of the auxiliary to Palomar camp, U. S. W. V. in Oceanside, which attracted many Santa Ana Spanish War veterans and their wives. Their Southland trip includes visits to the Widows' Home and Veterans' hospital in West Los Angeles. From Los Angeles, Mrs. Whitlock and Mrs. Fowler will return to San Francisco, where George Whitlock will meet his wife for their return to Washington. He is superintendent of the Veterans' Home located at Orting, Wash.

Kingdom Builders' Party
Twenty-six members of Spurgeon Memorial Kingdom Builders class took part in a merry affair late last week when Mr. and Mrs. Carl Du Rall and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bolte entertained the group at a party in the Du Rall home, 942 West Bishop street.

A variety of colorful flowers decked the rooms for the informal hospitality, which stressed a St. Patrick's theme. Games brought prizes for Mrs. Robert Everett and Mr. Schneider. Sandwiches and cakes of shamrock design were served from a prettily-arranged table, while guests sought places at smaller tables to enjoy the refreshments.

Sorority Member Honored
By Election to Office
In Southland Council

Coupled with the interest felt by Sigma chapter members Beta Sigma Phi sorority in their recently elected officers, is their pride in having one of their number, Miss Lillie Forsberg, elected to the post of treasurer of the Southern California council of the sorority. This honor was paid Sunday morning at a council breakfast held at Lakewood Country club, Long Beach, with Anaheim's Tau chapter, and Chapter of Fullerton as hostesses.

Election in the Santa Ana group was accomplished late the past week when Miss Lena May Wilsey was hostess in the home of Miss Beulah May, 1002 Mabury street. Miss Delphina Lopez presided over the session, during which Mrs. Robert Windolph was named as her successor in the presidency. On Mrs. Windolph's staff of officers will be the Misses Lillian McDonald, vice president; Margaret Wilson, recording secretary; Eunice Spicer, corresponding secretary; Lois Taylor, treasurer; Catherine Walbridge, historian, and Lena May Wilsey, parliamentarian.

Other details of the evening included a review which Miss May gave of the book, "Around the World on a Penny," written by Anita Willets Burnham, who had been a sister student of hers at art school in Chicago. Plans were discussed also for various spring events, including the California Huntington, Pasadena, April 22 and 23. In addition to the social features of the state-wide affair will be several round table discussion groups. One of these on Sunday morning will be led by Miss Wilsey and will be devoted to flower arrangement.

On April 28, Sigma chapters will join Long Beach Iota chapter for the annual Founders Day banquet in Pacific Coast club. With these plans for coming events were memories of recent pleasant programs enjoyed by the chapter. One dealt with the account of her attendance at a recent Washington conference by Mrs. John Tessmann, honorary member. The meeting was held in Huntington Beach with Miss Isabel Siracusa. Members also had the pleasure of hearing Kraemer J. Rohlfisch of the Junior college faculty, talk on his experiences in Germany at a meeting with Miss May, at which Miss Ruth Stephenson was hostess.

Playmates Are Welcomed
To Birthday Party

Exactly three years old on Saturday, March 18, small Eddie West Jr. had the pleasure of receiving ten of his playmates accompanied by their mothers, at a joyous birthday party that afternoon in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund West, 2025 North Flower street.

One of the unusual things about the party was that six of the small guests celebrate their third birthday anniversaries, within about six weeks of that of their host. His Cousin, Mary West, cousin small daughter of Judge and Mrs. Franklin G. West, is three years old today. Diane Paterson, little daughter of the Douglas Patersons; Ronnie Crookshank, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Crookshank; Gordon X. Richmonds of Orange, and who is very proud of her twin baby brothers; Jane Mathis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Mathis of Villa Park, and Robbie Wade, son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Wade, comprise this group of sturdy three-year-olds.

When party joys progressed to the refreshment hour, Eddie seated his playmates at a low table where his birthday cake with its three candles, held every eye. Quite as intriguing was the nest of Easter eggs, presided over by a yellow bunny with his small cousin, Terry Stephenson III, loaned for the occasion. More formality distinguished the prettily appointed table from which cake, ice and tea were dispensed to the older guests. Mrs. Terry Stephenson, aunt of Mrs. West, poured tea from the silver urn which was flanked by bright flowers. Mrs. Frederick Pinkston (Betty West) and Miss Stella Groff assisted Mrs. West in hostess duties.

Dinner Party Observes
Wedding Anniversary

Recent arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Fay Bowman from their home in Goshen, Ind., for a visit with Mrs. Bowman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Raugh, inspired an enjoyable little dinner party Friday night in the Raugh home, 1705 West Sixth street.

The occasion celebrated the second wedding anniversary of the Bowmans, and of course Irish symbols were mingled with decorations on a bridal theme, since they had been a St. Patrick's Day wedding. Green was apparent in details of the menu, including the salad course and later in the dessert course. It was an intimate little family circle assembled, including Mrs. Bowman's aunt, Mrs. Ella R. Miller, here from Los Angeles for the event, with Dr. J. M. Raugh and Mrs. Maude Miller, uncle and aunt of this city.

Pledges Entertained

Several pledges were welcomed to a meeting of Delta Gamma Chi club last week in the home of Miss Betty Johnson, 405 East Washington avenue. The group included the Misses Hazel De Shazo, Helen De Shazo, Barbara Ellis, Betty Vosskuhl and Mary Towler.

After the pledges had been put through their paces, refreshments were served by Miss Johnson and her co-hostess, Miss Doris Ferris.

THE WAR CENTURY

The "war index" of the Twentieth Century is eight times greater than all preceding centuries. So found a Harvard professor who analyzed 902 wars and 1615 internal disturbances in the past 2500 years, as reported in the Commentator. War would seem almost the normal state of Spain, for it was found to have been at war 67 per cent of the years of its history. England was at war more than half the time, 56 per cent, France just even, 50 per cent.

The United States may be proud or thankful or both, that only 14 per cent of the time since the Declaration of Independence has been war time.

But whatever our Twentieth Century may find to be proud about, it can brag but little on its war record, for even the turbulent past, which seems to the history student little but a succession of wars and insurrections, is exceeded in violence by our own time.

BILL-A-MINUTE

Four thousand bills—good, bad and indifferent—confront California legislators. A bill-a-minute, someone with a mathematical turn of mind has figured out. Whether that arithmetic is conclusive or not, legislative attention to the hundred or so bills of vital public importance—those dealing with the budget, with relief, with taxation—certainly will have to suffer if the lawmakers even attempt to consider all 4000.

Common sense simplification of lawmaking is in order, and by no means is impractical. For one thing, more than 100 pension bills are on file; all time-wasting and useless because state finances cannot bear pension cost increases in any form. For another, 40 bills that would create new governmental departments are in the hopper, despite the opposition of the voters, who almost invariably defeat every department-creating scheme on the ballot. Within a few months of its overwhelming 3 to 1 defeat at the polls we find the Garrison Revenue Bond Act, slightly renovated, back on the legislative menu—with its main feature still the abolition of the two-thirds vote requirement on revenue bond issues and substitution of a bare majority. And there is the perennial grist of dog-eared old measures, rejected by the electorate or the legislature, or both, up for another ride to the waste-basket.

More quality and less quantity in the Sacramento law-mill might well be paralleled with elimination of extraneous matter from the voter's ballot, which grows longer and more complex with each election—since the voter, too, has personal responsibility for weighty decisions. A step in that direction probably will be taken by this legislature, banning "cross-filing," whereby candidates file on the ticket of practically every party in the field. Unwarranted puzzlement in the voting booth is as unnecessary, and as harmful, as the confusion of headlong, bill-a-minute speed in the halls of California's legislature.

WHO PAYS FOR HIGHWAYS?

What probably is the most complete study yet made of highway costs recently has been issued by the Association of American Railroads. But the study is not of railroad origin. It was prepared by three experts with national reputations in their field—Clifford Older, head of the Illinois State Highway Department; Charles R. Breed, head of the School of Civil Engineering of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and W. S. Downs, professor of highway engineering at the University of West Virginia.

Their study was undertaken to determine three things of vital importance to the public—first, the total annual cost of roads and streets; second, what part of these costs is borne by the general public and what part by motor vehicles; third, what should be the equitable division of costs between these two groups. The survey covers the twelve years from 1921 to 1932. This period was chosen because the records for years before 1921 are incomplete, and no comprehensive data is available for years following 1932.

The study goes into great detail, and includes charts, graphs and tables. It seems to be as scientifically accurate as is humanly possible. And here is its startling conclusion:

During the twelve-year period, the total annual cost of streets and roads was $20,876,146,000. Of this total general taxes should have paid $5,087,497,000, and motor vehicles should have paid the balance.

However, motor vehicles actually paid only $6,031,395,000 and general taxes paid the remaining $14,844,751,000.

In other words, over a representative twelve-year period, the general public subsidized motor vehicles to the tune of almost $10,000,000,000. Surveys made by various bodies in individual states have come to similar findings. The problem of highway costs, and who should pay them, is something that hits every pocketbook and that deserves a great deal more public attention than it has received.

HITLER'S PROGRESS EASTWARD

(Chicago Tribune)

The second phase of Hitler's eastern program now causes the dissolution of the Czechoslovakian union. Slovakia is a state independent in theory, a German dependency in fact. The Czechs are restricted to the confines of Bohemia and German influence over the whole territory is virtually consolidated.

These developments were implied in the Munich agreement, although at the time France and Great Britain endeavored to soften the actual bluntness of the surrender by professions of concern for the Czechoslovakians and promises that they would receive financial aid and the guaranty of their restricted frontiers. Nothing came of that.

Mr. Chamberlain probably realized at the time that the considerations which had prompted him to the peace of Europe would remain in force and that the Munich agreement meant that western

Sharing The Comforts Of Life

TARIFF WALL BETWEEN STATES

Few people realize the extent to which subterfuge has brought about tariff between states. From the report prepared by Bureau of Agricultural Economics, Secretary Wallace reports as follows: Kansas has established 66 "ports of entry" on main highways entering the state, where officials stop all traffic, exactly as customs' officials do on the borders of European countries and make investigations and, among other things subject motor vehicles to taxes, regulations, etc.

Oklahoma has 58 similar "customs" establishments, while Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Nebraska, New Mexico, Utah have become infected with the same idea.

The report continues that practically every state has set up some kind of machinery, or barrier, to protect its industries as well as its farms, from competition from all other states.

Commenting on this, B. C. Forbes, says:

"Isn't this an extraordinary situation? Time and time again the United States Supreme Court has ruled against the imposition of tariffs by one state on products of any nature whatsoever entering from other states. But this authoritative compilation reveals that state legislators and other bodies have contrived to get around the principle of free interstate trade.

"Incalculable economic loss" is being inflicted on the American people by these tactics, practices, discriminations, the report strongly emphasizes.

"That statement can be accepted as indisputable.

"The whole facts should be brought prominently to the attention of the American people, with particular pains taken to bring home to them how their well-being is injured by the growth of barriers to nationwide, unrestricted commerce.

"The present trend indisputably is utterly unhealthy unAmerican."

OPPORTUNITIES FOR YOUTH

In most every country, rebellions usually have sprung from the youth of the land. And there is a very good reason for this, if the other countries are treating the youth of the land the way the people in the United States are treating them.

In the first place, we are coddling them, which is a most unfair treatment. But our greatest mistreatment of the youth is the combinations that prevent them from having fair opportunity to learn. We have built fences so that the youth cannot pry into the economic structure. We have done this by the labor unions' practices of preventing people from learning trades, by professional men's association, by business men's association, by proteges, by tariff laws and now by minimum wage laws and other laws that restrict the individual, limiting the number of hours he dare work, etc.

It is no wonder the youth of the land resents the combinations to keep him subservient to the existing order.

It is truly a step in the caste system, that outlaws the youth of the land.

And yet the public thinks it is treating the young people fairly. Instead of treating them fairly, we should bow our heads in shame as to the unfair treatment we have given the youth of the land.

MIGHT BE A SAFETY VALVE

Henry S. McKee, author of "Degenerate Democracy" in writing in the Los Angeles Times, suggests that possibly things will get so bad, because of government regulation and restriction, that men with ability cannot do anything in private life and will, thus, be attracted to government service.

The trouble of course, under universal suffrage, is to elect these men. Until the public schools and the majority of people come to understand some simple fundamentals of economics, they cannot be elected and this lesson seems to be an extremely expensive lesson; namely, the destruction of the savings of centuries.

Possibly men of insight and foresight will accept the responsibility of sponsoring private education, in order to soften the costly lesson of hard experience, that is bound to follow from majority rule public education.

Europe had abandoned all programs which might conflict with Germany's expansion in the east. The French frontiers, after 20 years of power politics, are in France, and there is no excuse for the American frontiers being anywhere except in America.

The surgical operation which began last fall has aroused the indignation of a great many people, it exhibiting, as they thought, a ruthlessness on the part of the aggressors and a submissiveness on the part of the defenders which, if it continued as the controlling attitude in Europe, would eventually engulf the freer peoples. There was a warm spot in American feelings for Czechoslovakia, possibly in recognition of the success of American ideas in his post-war republic.

Many Americans thought the Czechoslovakians had the most worthy of the newer European republican forms. However that may be, it is true that very little of what could be regarded as even sham democracy now exists in the general direction of Germany's expanding movement. The peoples are fiercely nationalistic, but they are not democracies. Our government will have to do a great deal of distortion to find a crusade against despots. People who hoped for better things will continue to regret that Czechoslovakia was the victim, but the further progress of Hitler's program does not now involve countries which left to themselves would evolve and maintain a different and better form of government than the one rolling down on them.

For a short period in 1918 Germany realized the fruits of a great victory in the east. Before the signing of the Brest-Litovsk treaty the German army had reached the Black sea and Germany had occupied the Ukraine and the Crimea. At the expense of revolutionary Russia and the bolsheviks, Germany was where Hitler dreams of going. Its subsequent failure on the western front and the decisive factor took away that great but briefly possessed empire, with its resources and much needed grain. Russia had to give it up. France, Great Britain and the United States forced its relinquishment. Nevertheless, the Germans were there once, and now, stronger than ever, they may be on their way back.

These 20 years have worked changes as startling and remarkable as anything the world has seen, but they were written into the treaty of Versailles and they were fostered by the policy of the victors, who tried to encircle and hold down a people who could not be expected to submit longer than they had to. The German government, which might have been a peaceable member of the family of European nations, could not survive its external and internal enemies. Herr Hitler was the result, and the powers which were so securely on top 20 years ago are now unable to make any protests or offer any resistance, even if they cared to do so.

This Is Beginning To Get Embarrassing

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON—Confidential dispatches placed on the President's desk indicate that the real works in Europe will break between March 26 and 28. Whether or not this is correct, certainly no one on this side of the Atlantic can tell, but it has the State Department and the White House worried.

"The real works" is going to be more important than another squeeze play against a defenseless country in Central Europe—though this may be part of it. It is going to be the drive to partition Africa. And the squeeze play this time will be against Great Britain and France. The march into Czechoslovakia was merely the curtain-raiser.

That march had two main things behind it:

1. To clear the road to the oil, wheat, and minerals of Hungary, Yugoslavia and particularly Rumania.

2. To make it absolutely clear to these countries that they could not depend on France and Britain, that they must come under the wing of Germany.

Balkan Warhouse
During the World War, the Germans fought for two years to penetrate to the raw materials of Rumania. This time they want those materials even before they start fighting. And since last Tuesday they have them.

Immediately after Munich, the smaller nations of Europe adopted the motto, "You can't trust the Democracies." But more recently, King Carol of Rumania has been flirting with Britain, while the Yugoslavs have been getting worried about Hitler. Even the Poles, with a 10-year German pact, are afraid that Hitler might turn on them.

Since the torpedoing of Czechoslovakia, they know that even if Hitler does turn on them they will have to take it. For the big lesson of last week was that although the French and British had guaranteed Czechoslovakia's borders, when Hitler crossed her border they didn't bat an eyelash.

Diplomatic strategists are convinced that the motive for Hitler's action last week was to rub French and British faces in the dirt, show that their pledges meant nothing. Outcome of it all undoubtedly will be that the Balkans and the remainder of Central Europe will go the whole hog for Germany.

Showdown With France

Hitler is now in a far stronger position to force a showdown with France and Britain. He can now throw almost his entire army through Switzerland and Holland—two countries which had a good look at the weak knees of democracies last week, and are not likely to trust France and Britain in the future.

The conquest of Czechoslovakia also gave Germany immediate use of one of the world's largest munitions factories, Skoda (formerly owned by French capital), plus 35 fully equipped Czech divisions and 1400 airplanes. In contrast, Britain has only 19 divisions available for war in Europe.

Both Hitler and Mussolini are preparing to put the screws on France—from north, south and southwest—and Hitler may be demanding Alsace-Lorraine before it is all over.

Roosevelt and Mencken
A striking bust of Roosevelt was made recently by able sculptor Yucca Salamunich. Later Salamunich also did a bust of H. L. Mencken, bitter critic of the New Deal.

When Mencken learned he had been put in the same company with Roosevelt, he said to Salamunich, "What medium did you work in?"

"Plaster," said the artist.

"You should have done him in steel; be more fitting," said Mencken, adding, "Have you sold it?"

"Not yet."

"Be a good thing," said Mencken, "to take it out in the park and put it up in the shooting gallery."

NOTE—In contrast was the reaction of Emil Ludwig, biographer of Roosevelt, who exclaimed: "The bust shows something in him I did not see! It changes my conception!" And he rewrote a chapter in accordance with the new insight gained from the artist.

U. S.-Soviet Barter

Backstage conversations are under way with Soviet Russia by which Henry Wallace hopes to unload a little more of his surplus wheat, while the War Department expects to get a reserve of manganese to be used in a war emergency. If the deal goes through it will be the most important barter transaction ever negotiated by the United States.

Chief stumbling block, so far, is that Russia does not particularly need wheat. However, Secretary Wallace, who has become Public Salesman No. 1 when it comes to getting rid of his surplus wheat, thinks that Stalin ought to take a little of it—say about 20,000,000 bushels—to store up for a war emergency.

Thus far the Russians have been more anxious to sell their manganese for cash than to trade for wheat. They point out that the Soviet trade balance is already 300 per cent favorable to the United States, and that the extra purchase of manganese might balance things up. But the Soviet is willing to pledge continued heavy purchases of American machinery and tools if the manganese sale goes through.

Meanwhile the War Department wants the deal to go through either for cash or for barter. It points out that in wartime supplies of manganese are absolutely essential for the manufacture of steel, largely would be cut off from the United States.

American Minister

With the disappearance of Czechoslovakia, American Minister Wilbur J. Carr is expected to return home. Sixty-nine years old, Carr was sent to Prague when it was relatively quiet, because the State Department wanted to put him on the shelf. Instead he has been on the hottest spot in Europe.

Carr has done several things which have not reached the public eye. One occurred shortly after Munich, when the big Czech shoe companies, in response to Nazi bidding, were about to discharge their Jewish employees.

Carr served notice on them that if they discriminated against Jews, he would report that fact to the United States; and that Czech shoes, which are widely sold here, doubtless would be included in the anti-Nazi boycott.

Carr used such vigorous language that the Czech shoe manufacturers held up their discharge order. No Jews were fired until after Hitler marched across the border.

Fair Enough

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER

NEW YORK, March 21.—Fiction writers make big money at home, sometimes as much as $3,000 for a story, plus the movie rights which may be as much again. It would seem to be a soft way of making a luxurious living, for one story a month should suffice, and some highly successful fiction writers have made one story last a lifetime, merely writing it over and over, now in a Palm Beach setting, now in Hollywood, now on board a ship, and now, for a change of pace, in the poor but honest surroundings of the five-and-ten.

But, although I can run a typewriter and know as many words as the next one and can think up the doings and sayings with little effort, fiction and its rich and easy rewards plainly are not for me, because I find it impossible to write convincing descriptions of pretty ladies.

"The beautiful oval of her face," I say, and then look at the words on paper and "X" them out and back into it like this:—"against the pale radiance of the moon the beautiful oval of her face . . . Nope. Ham! Fresh sheet of paper. Once more, now—"The deep pools of her eyes, illumined the tender oval of her face . . ."

It gets worse and worse, and it does no good to play the duck for the beautiful oval of her face and start in on her finely chiseled throat, the slender tendrils of her fingers or the tantalizing tilt of her chin, because, eventually, you have to assemble her like a car on the line. You have got to select a certain kind of eyes big and round or mischievous crescents, and fit them alongside a certain type of nose and a small, petulant mouth (for society types) or a different kind for noble, self-sacrificing girls.

That is another problem. You can't say she has a big mouth. It sounds funny. Like mushmouth. It takes days and days of toil and hundreds of cigarettes to create a nice mouth which is not small, indicating a small, spoiled mature, nor yet and ear-to-ear mouth.

Some fictioneers seem to just throw them together any old way and get good results, which may explain why prime fiction brings such high prices.

Then you still have to surround all these fixtures with an outline which, say what you will, has got to be a delicate or tender oval, because after all, if you give her a square face the editor is going to say, "Why, this doll is just an old bag," and bounce it right back at you. And this head being completed, including the hair—which, by the way, has a seductive fragrance and tickles deliciously against the man's cheek—has got to be mounted on a nice chassis, and there you are in trouble again.

Not tall, not runty, not fat, neither scrawny. Just right. You try describing just right and you will see.

I think the reason why fictioneering remains a highly specialized and profitable trade is that most men never stop to consider why a face is attractive to them and would find, if they did, that they go for faces which would sound awful on paper. They don't analyze a face, asking themselves "is this one oval?" or "are those eyes deep, mysterious pools of devotion?" but respond to a general effect and are much less exacting in real life than in the marketplace.

"It is for each to utter that which he sincerely believes to be true, and add his unit of influence to all other units of influence, and let the results work themselves out."—Spencer. Contributors are urged to confine their articles to 300 words.

Senior Editor:

My cousin, Myrtle Manana, has quite breezily been castigating the Senior Editor for his expressed opinions. Inasmuch as the Senior Editor has set himself up as a target for all the truly good and humanitarian forces to pelt I, poor Juan Paso Manana, rush to his defense and make some feeble answers to pungent Senora.

Does the Senora realize that the reason we have not a child labor amendment on the statute book is due wholly to the proponents of the measure drawing an amendment that would permit congress to prohibit all child labor whether at home, on the farm, or during vacations or before or after school? This was no oversight. There were two different groups behind the defeated amendment. The larger group was the humanitarians and would-be humanitarians. The smaller, but far more powerful group, was the labor unions; more powerful because organized and with a financial stake in preventing all labor possible from productivity and competition with their monopolies. This is not to say that the members of labor unions are a whit less just and humanitarian than bankers or merchants. All these different classes are all of exactly the same piece.

Think how many excellent old friends you have who not only think it a highly moral proposition to take $200 a month by force from young Tom and Dick and give it to old Harry? And then insult intelligence by solemnly assuring all and sundry that this will increase purchasing power! It never occurs to these good people that a dollar spent by young Tom and Dick will buy as much as if spent by old Harry.

Thus, the labor unions' driving force was to limit competition and gave no consideration to the twenty million children who would be robbed and injured. There are one-half million children in factories, to their injury and neglect of their schooling, and slowly this number is being diminished and there would not be now one such victim but for the avarice of those who formulated the proposed amendment.

This innocent looking document proposed to give congress power to regulate, even to prohibit, child labor. Does any thoughtful person doubt that during the last six years John L. Lewis and Mr. Roosevelt would have forced a bill through congress that would have absolutely prohibited any child under 18 years of age from doing any useful labor?

The president recently, before a body of students, told them that no child should work until after 18 years of age. Leaving the president without cross-examination, have you any doubt what the sinister John L. Lewis would demand? If the amendment had stated specifically that "no child shall be employed in industry to the exclusion of his schooling and no child shall be deprived of his right to gainful employment, provided he attends school to at least the eighth grade."

This amendment would have protected the half-million children in factories and also protected the 20 million children, millions of whom do some work when not in school. I sometimes wonder if these children who do the most work do not get better prepared for life than those sacrificed on the Moloch of our public school system.

Take eet, your little Junior now who "pail the cow" with the can-opener—would he not be better prepared for life, if he had some useful and gainful occupation when not in school, rather than being brought up in idleness?

"Listen, dear Cousin, and I will tell eet to you one thing." The world, he progress too slowly because eet take the sinners so long to clear up the evils inaugurated by the Saints.

Yours,
JUAN PESO MANANA

Fellow Citizens: I note that the administration is alarmed at the added cost of old age pensions in California, during the past two years, and do not seem to know what to do about it. We know that the pensioners who are home owners, enrolled during the past two years, is the chief cause of the increased cost. Then, what is the remedy? For a home owner to receive the same pension as one who has to rent a home is unjust.

A further injustice is to allow a home owner to rent rooms, in competition with a widow across the street, owner of a rooming house, who has to pay taxes for old age pensions. The home owner freed from rent and also renting a room for $15 per month, allowed under the law, is really getting a play in this world and acquire loving husbands would be a few models, movie actresses and show girls.

A fictioneer must be completely free of self-consciousness and just let himself go in describing ladies and the wives of men sitting down to do this, would be likely to wonder if the completed product wouldn't seem to the neighbors might suggest that man had a secret dream-girl in his mind and make for distrust and unhappiness in his bow or give his old lady foolish ideas and set her to posturing the graceful column of her neck, including her double chins, against the pale light of the moon, or talking baby talk like the hero-

much again for the movies.

ting an equivalent of some $60 per month, while the man who has to rent a home gets but $35 per month. Now should these home owners be dropped from the pension rolls, or should the amount of pensions paid all pensioners be reduced? I think the problem can be solved by doing neither, and with justice and equity to the taxpayers, and both classes of old age pensioners as well.

When a parents' children cannot or will not provide for the needs of the needy old folk, and the friends and neighbors, who are taxpayers, care for them, and if they are home owners, pay the taxes, and upkeep on their homes, I think at the death of the pension owners, the pension department should have the authority to settle the estate, pay pensions advanced, and pay balance, if any, to legal heirs. A pensioner who owns a home, who would not favor this plan, is lacking in gratitude to his neighbors and friends who paid the pension taxes, and should not receive a pension. It is unthinkable that sons and daughters who have been relieved of the anxiety and responsibility of care of parents, by taxpayers, should oppose the return of the funds advanced to parents and with no interest, too, so that the funds may be used as pensions paid to those sons and daughters, thereby relieving grandchildren of a pension burden. This would really be a "revolving" pension fund. It would really be better for the home owners who would receive a large pension than can be paid under the present law, perhaps.

No pensioner should be permitted to work for pay—but all should be allowed to produce food, etc., for his own use, but not for sale or to be given away. I get an old age pension. I am satisfied with the amount I am getting because I've common horse sense enough to know that if my pension is increased, that the taxes of my sons will be increased. They have all the tax load they can possibly carry.

Fellow Citizens:

In view of the fact that numerous of my friends are under the impression that I am the Mr. Nelson who is running for the office of city marshal, (chief of police) I wish to correct this erroneous idea. I have been a member of the Santa Ana police force for 14 years and am under civil service. I am perfectly satisfied with my present position and am not seeking any other post. I believe the Santa Ana police department to be one of the finest in the State of California and am proud to be a member of it.

SGT. N. C. (NELLIE) NELSON

(Editor's Note: The following is the third prize winning article in the Junior group in the Contest, "What Is a Fair Wage?")

WHAT IS A WISE METHOD OF ARRIVING AT A WISE OR FAIR WAGE?

A reasonable or fair wage is easily determined, for everybody who works should receive as a wage that which his work produces or its equivalent.

Like the automobile factory workers, one man puts on bolts, another puts on fenders while another designs the engine and another puts it into the automobile.

Everybody that has any sense knows how to tighten a bolt, but everybody don't know how to make engines and other parts for cars. There are different men who are bosses for the workers who collect higher wages. To have them happy you would want to pay them as they earned it. If one man made more it would encourage them to work harder after you had explained to the workers. After the man had tried it he would work for better wages all the time and so everybody would profit by it and would be happy.

If you paid each man so much a day he would be making money whether he worked or not but would you be gaining anything if he did not work? If you paid him by what he earned you could encourage him to work.

If you want to pay a worker so that he is satisfied and happy you should make a system that would make the men want to work because when a man worked harder he is helping the owner of the company and if you paid him for what he did he would be helping himself out, too.

Gilroy Papers Are Purchased

GILROY, Cal., March 21.—(UP)—Lloyd E. Smith today announced sale of his newspaper properties—the Gilroy Evening Dispatch and the Gilroy Weekly Advocate—to Anderson Browne and James W. Marmaduke, both of Sacramento.

Smith, owner and publisher of the papers for the last 11 years, said he was withdrawing from the field to devote more time to private writing. The Dispatch is one of Santa Clara's four daily newspapers.

Marmaduke is a member of the Sacramento Bee's advertising staff. Browne came to California from Mobile, Ala. The sale was made through Arthur W. Stypes, newspaper broker, San Francisco. Details were not disclosed.

FRANCES WILLARD

Art Classes Again

Willard's ninth grade art classes are again entering the annual Poppy day poster contest, sponsored by the American Legion auxiliary, to be completed by April 16, and judged by May 1, according to Miss Marian Libby, art director.

Willard is also competing in the national contest. Town, county, and state prize must be won before the contestant may win the national prize. Appeal, which is worth 50 points; originality, 25 and neatness 10 are the factors on which the posters are to be judged.

"Of course, we probably will not win the national prize, but in the past three or four years, we have won first or second prize in the city. In fact, we won all three of the city prizes last year," stated Miss Libby.

The city contest prizes are: first, $3.50; second, $2.50, and third, $1.50. The county prize winner will be awarded a certificate, the state prize winner will be given $10, while the national prize winner will receive $25.

Comedy Presented

Eugene Smith as the professor and John Francis as Slewfoot, had the leads in the comedy, "One House Too Many," directed by Mrs. Esther Jean Sylvester, and presented with the minstrel show, sponsored by Herbert Michel, in the Willard auditorium recently. The supporting cast included Dick Hill as Fishmouth; Bill Hollman, Miss Fandango; and Norris Barnes as Miss Malvina.

Dancing, which included two group and one solo by Raymond Gulledge, was in charge of Miss Alice Lamb. Glendine Canady, Betty Crawford, Helen Taylor, Iryss McCoy, Lois Bacon, Dorothy Smith, and Dorothy Crawford, accompanied by Evelyn Burgess, gave one of the group dances, while the endmen, to the tune of "Oh Suzanna," gave the other.

Rudy Reyes, seventh grader, accompanied by the glee club, sang the solo part of "My Old Kentucky Home," while George Brown sang "Porter's Love Song to a Chambermaid."

The orchestra, conducted by Mr. Michel, played two selections, "Ole South," a medley of southern melodies, and "Show Boat," a selection tune. "Water Boy," "Old Back Joe," "Levee Song," "Down in Mobile," "De Sandman" and "Southern Memories," were the other songs sung by the chorus. Patsy McGee and Evelyn Burgess were the accompanists.

Speaks on Papers

"How Papers Are Printed" was the topic of a lecture given by Thomas E. Williams, high school printing instructor to the HS journalism group recently when he gave demonstrations on the blackboard. In explaining the kinds of type, foundry, linotype and monotype, Mr. Williams informed the group that the high school, jaycee and junior high papers are printed with linotype, and foundry type while some magazines use monotype. He also gave an interesting explanation on how pictures came over a wireless machine even from over the ocean.

After telling how the national press associations send their material over the whole country, questions were asked by the students and answered by the speaker.

Girls' Glee Club Sings

The Senior Girls' Glee club, directed by Miss Helen Glancey, and accompanied by Margaret Lockett, entertained the Fremont school recently by presenting a program of music when they sang "The Bells of Saint Mary's," "The Parade of the Wooden Soldiers," and "Dance Ye Gypsies."

Other numbers included a piano solo, "Have a Heart," by Mildred Gibson; Nina Light singing "Love Everlasting," and a tap dance by Rita Hollerith.

G.A.C. Plans Trip

The Girls' Athletic club, chartered by Miss Wyllys Anderson, sponsor, plans a trip to Los Angeles for April 15, to have dinner and attend a theater in Hollywood.

"We have been planning a trip for these girls for some time, as an award for the new members who have not yet had the chance to participate in our activities," Miss Anderson stated.

Skits Presented

"Super Speedy Service," with Terry Ragan, Kenneth Anderson, Bob Ball, and Richard Honor, and "Mother's Angel Child," starring Elaine Harlow and Barbara Neff, were two humorous skits presented in the seventh grade assembly, sponsored by Miss Mary Schott, Miss Marian Libby and Robert Horn, recently.

A 10-minute demonstration of rapid sketching, using colored chalk, was included when Walter

Sorensen drew a landscape; Marvin Coring, Willard; Jimmie Lumpkin, a Mexican head, and Bill McGee, a cowboy on horseback.

Baseball Practice

Seventh and eighth grade after-school basketball practice began March 7, according to Miss Wyllys Anderson, director of girls' sports, to give the girls a chance to gain the required 350 points for the Girls' Athletic club, and also to gain graceful team work.

The eighth graders are Flores, Armandaris, Rodriguez, Desmond, McTighe, Smith, McAndrew, Bernstein, Hernandez, Burks, Laguna, Laya, Graupensberger, Harris, Fainberger, Harger, Valencia, Carpenter, Galbrith, Scheely, Sargent, McCarty, Ambriz, Romero, Correa, Munson, Gehrig, Russell, Earle, Wright, Winbiger, McBurney, Bryann, Tiernan, Tozier, Cole and Brown.

The seventh grade participants are: Herzog, Montgomery, Young, Spicer, McFadden, Neff, Whitson, Holman, Harlow, Dietrich, Marymee, Gynn, Richardson, Whitters, Hill, Niver, Hillyard, Winkler, Deardorf, McCoy and Hamilton.

Strong Man Here

Arthur Santell, called America's strongest athlete, was presented at a pay assembly Wednesday in an educational series given by the National School assemblies.

Santell, lecturing on how to keep physically fit, gave an exhibition of strength such as tearing a 1500 page New York telephone directory into eighths, driving a 20-penny spike through a heavy plank, and breaking a steel chain having a tensile strength of 2000 pounds, accomplishing these feats with his bare hands.

Dr. Serrurier Speaks

An interesting and entirely new series of lectures, presented by the adult education department of the city schools, was launched recently in the Willard auditorium by Dr. Mark Serrurier, first speaker in the series.

Dr. Serrurier, who has been connected with structural astronomical work for the past 20 years, discussed the details of the Palomar telescope, and illustrated his lecture, which was open to the public, with slides.

New Tournament

A new seventh grade girls' singles tennis tournament, under the instruction of Miss Wyllys Anderson, tennis coach, is under way, giving the girls who could not play well enough for previous tournaments an opportunity to enter and learn further tennis fundamentals, with close supervision.

SERIAL STORY

'MRS. DOC'

BY TOM HORNER

COPYRIGHT, 1939, NEA SERVICE, INC.

The characters and situations in this story are wholly fictional.

Yesterday, Alan decides to go to St. Louis, much against his real feelings. Emily is delighted over the decision. Returning home that night, Alan receives a telegram.

CHAPTER XII

ALAN ripped the envelope open, read the message quickly. He frowned.

"Bad news?" Emily asked so lightly. Alan handed her the telegram.

"LETTER RECEIVED," she read. "IMPORTANT THAT YOU COME AT ONCE TO SIGN CONTRACT, LEAVING FOR EUROPE AT NOON TOMORROW TO SERVE ON INTERNATIONAL COMMISSION ASSIGNING JEWISH PHYSICIANS OF VIENNA AND BERLIN HOSPITALS TO STAFFS OF AMERICAN MEDICAL SCHOOLS. EXPECT YOU BY NINE A. M."

"WILLIAM PETERSON."

"What's so bad about that?" Emily queried. "You can catch the midnight train and be there in plenty of time. Sign the contract and we'll be ready to move any time Dr. Peterson says. Why, Alan, what's the matter?"

"I can't go tonight!" he answered.

"You can't go tonight?" Emily echoed. "Why?" She almost screamed the question.

"I can't leave. Mrs. Howland is in the hospital. Grandma Frank may not live through the night. I'll wire Dr. Peterson."

"You will not," Emily ordered. "You'll call Dr. Farrell and tell him to look out for Grandma Frank and to take charge of Mrs. Howland. Then you'll catch that midnight train."

"No, Emily, I couldn't do that. These people are depending on me. I'm not kidding myself that Farrell couldn't take care of them as well as I, but I owe it to them to stay here. Mrs. Howland engaged me because she had confidence in me, even after she had lost her first baby. She might have gone to a specialist in the city, but she didn't. And when I took the case, I gave my word that I'd be here when she needed me. She needs me tonight. I can't break my promise. And Grandma Frank—"

"This is no time for your 'knight in shining armor' philosophy," Emily broke in angrily. "You're too idealistic, Alan, too ethical."

"And if you don't go to St. Louis, what will Dr. Peterson think? You've already written that you'd accept his offer. I've hoped, I've planned—"

Emily saw her dream castles tumbling.

"Peterson may understand. I'll try to explain. And if he doesn't—"

"If he doesn't—then your chance to be a professor—to amount to something—is gone... forever."

IT would always be like this, Emily knew. Even if Dr. Peterson did accept Alan's explanation, even if Alan went on with his plans up to the last minute, even if they were ready to step on to the train to leave Sumner forever, there would always be something like this to hold Alan here. He could not break away. He would not. He never would. The ties were too strong.

And Emily? What did it mean for her? She pondered the question. Endless years, just as this last one had been?

A thought of Eric flashed through her mind. Eric offered opportunity to escape all this. But as quickly she put him from her thoughts. This was her problem—and Alan's. They must settle it alone, without interference of a third party.

Could she let her dreams of returning to St. Louis go? Could she resign herself to days and nights of loneliness? Could she ever be content as a country doctor's wife?

That she loved Alan, she knew. But whether she loved him enough to remain here, buried in Sumner, she was not certain. Alan loved her—as much as he could ever love anyone. No doubt of that. But his profession came first. She was outside, alone. An ever-widening gulf of misunderstanding was separating them. They were growing farther and farther apart. Where would it end? She buried her face in her hands, tried to think clearly.

ALAN realized, too, that a final decision must be made tonight. If he failed to comply with Peterson's virtual order to appear tomorrow, there likely would never be another chance. A hundred men, older, just as skillful as he—also experienced teachers—were available in Europe. They would gladly jump at the opportunity and Peterson would be practically forced to accept them. And what of Mrs. Howland? and Grandma Frank? They had a voice in this, too—a pleading, persistent voice that would not be still.

If Emily would only understand. If only something could change her so that she could see his work as he saw it. If she could even become a part of it, helping rather than hindering him.

Suddenly Alan knew what he would do. He squared his shoulders, faced his wife.

"WHAT are you going to do?"

Emily asked him calmly, evenly. Alan had known she would be like this in a crisis. No tears, no hysterical pleading.

"I'm staying here, Emily. I'm wiring Peterson that the whole thing is off. I don't want to be a professor. I want to be a doctor and that's what I'm going to be."

He went to the telephone. Emily winced as he dictated the message. This was the end. Fighting to keep back her tears, she waited until he had replaced the receiver. "That is your decision, Alan," she said. "Now listen to mine. I'm going to St. Louis. If you won't come, I'll go alone."

"Emily!" His face was white. "This can't go on," Emily went on swiftly. "You can have Sumner—but you can have it without me!"

"What do you mean?" Alan's lips tried to set in a thin, hard line, but they quivered, involuntarily.

"I mean that we're through, Alan. I'm leaving. I'll arrange for the divorce."

"Emily, what are you saying?" he shouted.

"You can have your patients—they mean more to you than I do." "But they don't. You can't do this. Think what it means," Alan was finding control again. "Our life—our marriage. Think—think what you're doing!"

"I have thought—I've done nothing but think—for months. I know what I'm doing. I don't belong here. I—"

The jingle of the telephone interrupted her. She paused as Alan answered. "It's Mrs. Howland," he said as he turned to her again. "I'll be at the hospital."

Even now—Emily thought after he had gone—when his own marriage hangs in the balance, they call and he goes!

THE telephone was still warm from his hand when Emily lifted it, called a number. After a long wait a man's voice answered.

"I want to speak to Eric Kane," Emily said.

"He's out on the dam. Can I have him call you?" the man shouted at her.

"It's important that I speak to him immediately. Please call him," Emily replied. There was another prolonged wait. At last Eric answered.

"Oh, it's you, Emily. Sorry to keep you waiting. Having a little trouble—this rain—"

"Eric, I'm leaving Alan." She spoke evenly. "I'm going home. I need you, here, now. Will you come down tonight?"

$69,155 IN COMPENSATION IS PAID ORANGE COUNTY WORKERS

Unemployed workers of Orange county received 8584 unemployment compensation checks for a total of $69,155.31 during February, it was announced today by Roy Ferguson, manager of the State Department of employment office here.

The amount paid to Orange, which is 1.2 per cent of the county men and women in February, was approximately $4000 over January of this year, in line with the general increase throughout the state, Ferguson said.

State Percentage

Since the inauguration of the benefit paying program in January, 1938, the state has distributed 39,349 checks in Orange county for a total of $344,761.82.

est month since inauguration of the benefit payment plan, according to information from Sacramento. Total distribution in the state up to March 1, 1939, amounted to $29,150,474.34, representing 3,056,837 checks.

"The increased benefit payments made in virtually all sections of California during February did not result from changes in the Unemployment Reserves act made during the first half of the 1939 legislative session," Ferguson said. "Further increases are predicted by department officials when the full effect of the new law is felt this month."
